VOL. XXVI BELLEFONTE, PA., THURSDAY MORNING. MAY 23, 1895. NO. 21

AN AWFUL CRIME.

Miss Mamie Armstrong Assaulted and Murdered.

Ellaville, Fla., May 19.—Miss Mamie Armstrong, the daughter of a prominent farmer, left her home six days ago to spend the night with a neighbor, who lived about two miles distant. The next day Miss Armstrong's father went to the house of the neighbor to bring his daughter home, and was surprised and alarmed to hear that nothing had been seen of her.

Mr. Armstrong alarmed the neighborhood and searched for the missing girl. The searchers found the corpse of Miss Armstrong in a clump of bushes in the woods. The body of the girl was in a horrible condition. Every shred of clothing had been torn off and she had been assaulted. After caring for the mangled corpse, the enraged whites began a search for the perpetrators of the deed.

As they approached the home of Sam Echols the negro ran out and started for the woods, but was stopped with a bullet, which wounded him slightly. The negro was examined and his face found to be scratched. Threatened with instant death, he confessed that he, with Sim Crowley and John Brooks, drugged and murdered her. Echols said that they kept the girl twenty-four hours before killing her. Most of the time Miss Armstrong was unconscious.

Having secured the negroes implicated by Echols, the white men took them to a dense swamp on the Suanee river, where they were tortured. Just what manner of death was meted out to the negroes is not positively known, but it is reported that they were flayed alive and then burned. The scene of the crime and triple lynching is near the large phosphate mines, in which are employed many negroes of the worst class. Assaults on white women have been frequent, and within six months twelve negroes have been lynched in that vicinity.

Seven Persons Were Hurt.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 19.—A trolley accident occurred at Twenty-second avenue and Eighty-sixth street, Bensonhurst, this afternoon, by which seven persons were injured, several of them being seriously hurt. The accident was caused by a trolly car of the Second avenue line of the Brooklyn heights road being run into by a car of the same line. The cars were full of passengers at the time.

The accident caused a panic among the passengers and several women fainted. A number of persons who were cut by flying glass went home without having their wounds dressed. Motorman Perry W. Smith and Conductor Albert Burke, of the latter car, were arrested on the charge of criminal negligence.

Arithmetical Questions.

Two boys John and James started from different places at the same time on their bicycles, and traveled toward each other. On meeting it appeared that John had traveled 18 miles more than James, and that John could have gone James' journey in 4 4-5 hours, but James would have been 7½ hours in performing John's journey. Required the distance between them when they set out?

Caleb and Philip have been chopping wood for the same number of weeks, Philip has chopped 32 cords more than Caleb. Philip could earn all that Caleb has earned, by chopping 5½ weeks; but for Caleb to earn wha Philip has earned it would require 12 wee s. How many cords did each chop?

Celebration of Girard's Birthday.

Philadelphia, May 20.—The 145th anniversary of the birth of Stephen Girard was celebrated this afternoon at Girard college. The exercises, which were attended by 8,000 persons, began at 3 p. m., and included an introductory address by Thomas P. Lonsdale, president of the Alumni association; an anniversary address by Colonel A. K. McClure, and the alumni oration, entitled "Stephen Girard and American Citizenship," by John Nolen. Late this afternoon the annual review of the Girard cadets, to the number of 480, was held on the college grounds. The various college buildings were elaborately decorated in honor of the occasion.

Cut His Throat.

Lancaster, May 19.—John M. Worth, a Pennsylvania railroad fireman, committed suicide last evening by cutting his throat, after kissing his little daughter goodby. He had been a sailor on the cruiser Baltimore, but was discharged for disability, having been scalded by the bursting of a steam pipe.

—F. C. Richards' Sons have received the first medals for the Bellefonte centennial. They are of aluminum and will make excellent mementoes of the occasion.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

Greater Portion of the Business Section of St. Albans Burned.

St Albans, Vt., May 10.—The most disastrous conflagration which has ever visited Vermont, this afternoon laid waste a great portion of the business section of this town. The fire started at 3 o'clock in the lumber yard of W. S. Fonda, and a high wind caused the flames to enter the very heart of the town. In five minutes the fire was raging in a dozen different places and the fire companies were powerless. The loss is estimated at three quarters of a million dollars, Fully 500 people are to-night without shelter. Forty business places were destroyed together with at least 100 tenements, to say nothing of other places.

At about 5.20 o'clock help arrived from Burlington and Swanton, by this time however, the fire was under control, although it extended its lines here and there. The flames jumped from the lumber yard to the centre of the town in an instant, passing over a territory fully 500 yards in extent, without doing any damage. From the centre of the town the conflagration passed northward, destroying in its progress the new government building, the extensive plant of the St. Albans Daily Messenger and job print, and streets of business houses and tenements. The flames are now under control, but are being steadily watched to prevent a second outbreak.

A Law Though Not Passed.

Raleigh, N. C. May 19.—The state supreme court has decided a unique case. Soon after the late session of the legislature it was found that a bill had been enrolled, ratified and signed which had been tabled in the house, and never before the senate. This act forbade preferences in assignments.

Governor Carr, suing as a private citizen, instituted proceedings to prevent Secretary of State Coke from delivering the act to the public printer for publication as a law, and the superior court decided against Carr. The supreme court sustained the lower court, saying the ratification and signatures of the presiding officers make a law which the courts cannot go behind, although gross fraud is apparent.

That Mifflin County Gold Find.

Lewistown, Pa., May 19.—There has been considerable excitement of late at Newton Hamilton concerning the gold discoveries there. The latest information obtainable is to the effect that assays have been made of the rock with the following results: Assay by W. M. Bradshaw, sample on worth $16.90 per ton; sample two $16.10 per ton. Assay by W. Burlew, sample one worth $12 gold, $1.35 silver per ton; sample two $13 per ton. The Watchman says: "The second strata lies twenty-two feet beneath the surface and contains gold, silver and lead in rich deposits. Gold miners who have examined it say it is equal to gold quartz. We have a proposition from a Colorado firm to consolidate with us and work the mine."

There May Be Trouble.

Atlanta, Ga., May 19.—A sensation was caused here to-day by the announcement that an investigation would be made of the actions and accounts of Grand Secretary Daniel, of the Order of Railway Conductors, which is in session here. The Constitution obtained a circular which had been secretly distributed charging Mr. Daniel with prostituting his office for private purposes and flaming with other virulent denunciations.

An investigation has been called for by the secretary and a committee will be in session for that purpose to-morrow. Mr. Daniel has held the position seventeen years, but was defeated two days ago by Martin Clancy, of Kent, O.

An Aged Republican Dead.

New York, May 19.—Hiram Barney died at Spuyten Duyvil to-day after a short illness. He was born in 1811. Mr. Barney was collector of the port of New York under Lincoln during the first three years of his administration when he resigned declining an appointment to a foreign mission. When the republican party was formed in 1856 Mr. Barney was a delegate to the Philadelphia convention which nominated Fremont and Dayton. Mr. Barney's first wife was Hannah Tappan, daughter of Louis Tappan, the abolitionist, by whom he had five children. His second wife was Miss Hilburn, of Keokuk, sister of Mrs. General Schofield.

Gail Hamilton Dying.

Washington, May 19.—Mary Abigail Dodge (Gail Hamilton) it is reported to-night has been slowly sinking all day and her death, it is feared, may be only a question of a few hours. For two days Miss Dodge has been unconscious to her surroundings.

SWARTHMORE IN THE LEAD.

A Big Crowd Attended the Meet at State College Saturday.

The tenth annual meet of the State Inter-Collegiate athletic association was held on Beaver field, at State College, on Saturday afternoon. A more beautiful day for such a gathering could not have been made to order. Old Sol had on his best smile and tempered the cooling eastern breezes with his warmest rays. Light gray and blue clouds floated in the heavens and cast their lustre on the field of battle below. The field was as green and smiling as though laid with one great St. Patrick's Day ribbon, and was a little lake in the midst of rising hills of black and white rows and masses that were really human beings. Many had taken advantage of the special train over the Bellefonte Central and Bellefonters were there in droves for the purpose of cheering old State on to victory. There wasn't room on the grand stand and bleachers for another soul, much less a body, half an hour before the contests commenced. Small boys were pressed like Autumn leaves and couldn't be told from the few cushions that were on the grandstand benches, and as for the ladies' balloon sleeves, when! oh, my!

There was not one chance out of an even 100,000 chances for the Swarthmore team to lose, all the circumstances being considered. Even if the others had never learned the science of the "game," and though their phenomenal luck had gone stone blind for the day, the fates were wooed in their favor by the rusty horse shoe filled with nails, and at no time from the start to finish of the contest were the other two teams on speaking terms with success. Although there had been seven college teams entered for the sport, only three competed, namely, Swarthmore, Lafayette and Penna. State. The other teams had paid their entrance fee but when the day of reckoning arrived they failed to materialize, which fact made the sports less interesting than they would have otherwise been. Swarthmore had the largest team on the field and was entered in every event, and when the final result had been announced it was found that she had come off victorious by a large margin. It is to be regretted that State College made such a poor showing, considering the advantages her men have, and although her team won but one first it was no fault of Trainer Hoskins, who has done everything in his power to make the sports at State a success; but the fault is that the men will not train. In contrast to this was the good showing made by both Swarthmore and Lafayette. In both teams the men showed careful training and determination to win, which was the secret of their success. The visiting collegians proved themselves to be perfect gentlemen and at no time was there any sign of any dissatisfaction. After the sports the visitors journeyed to Bellefonte where they stayed until the night train when they departed for their different colleges. The results of the contests are as follows:

100 yard Dash—won by S. E. Palmer, Swarthmore; Time, 10⅘ seconds. W. Mattison, Swarthmore, second.

Two-mile Bicycle Race—won by R. Manley, Swarthmore; Time, 5 minutes, 48 seconds. W. Ewing, State, second.

120 Yards Hurdle Race—won by W. Brookes, Swarthmore; Time, 18⅕ seconds. A. Scott, Swarthmore, second.

440 Yards Dash—won by J. D. Clarke, Lafayette; Time, 52⅕ seconds. C. G. Hodge, Swarthmore, second.

Half-mile Run—won by J. D. Clarke, Lafayette; Time, 2 minutes 10⅕ seconds. W. Clothier, Swarthmore, second.

Throwing 16 pound Hammer—won by B. L. Clark, Swarthmore; Distance 114 ft. 1 inch; Second, C. R. Rhinehart, Lafayette, 99 ft. 5 inches; third, B. F. Fisher, State, 97 feet.

One Mile Walk—won by P. Parish, Swarthmore; Time, 8 min. 2¾ seconds. H. Price, State, second.

220 Yards Hurdle—won by S. C. Palmer, Swarthmore; Time, 28½ seconds. A. Scott, Swarthmore, second.

One Mile Run—won by J. Clothier, Swarthmore; Time, 5 min. 19¾ seconds. F. Kaiser, State, second.

Putting 16 pound Shot—won by C. R. Rhinehart, Lafayette; Put, 35 ft. 4 inches; B. F. Fisher, State; Put, 35 ft. 3½ inches; E. Rawn, State; Put, 32 ft. 3½ inches.

220 yards dash—won by G. O. Barclay, Lafayette; Time, 24½ seconds. S. E. Palmer, Swarthmore, second.

Running Broad Jump—won by F. C. Palmer, Swarthmore; Jump, 19 ft.

Total points of each team: Swarthmore 68, Lafayette 23, State College 21.

E. P. Bond, Swarthmore, Referee; H. M. Beaver, State, Announcer.

More Wages Increased.

Norristown, Pa., May 19.—The Norristown Woolen company, employing nearly 400 hands, have made an increase in wages of 10 per cent. to go into effect at once. The mill is compelled to go on double turn to fill orders.

THE ODD FELLOWS.

The Grand Lodge Will Convene To day. Many Visitors

Philadelphia, May 20.—The celebration by the Odd Fellows in honor of the completion of their handsome temple began to-day. An elaborate programme covering the major part of the week has been prepared, by which every branch of the order will have its place and prominently participate in the ceremonies incident to the dedication of the building.

This morning the grand encampment of Pennsylvania opened its annual session in the new temple and received committee reports, and this evening at the same place the degree staff of Corona encampment No. 287, in the presence of the grand encampment, gave a special exemplification of the patriarchal, golden rule and royal purple degrees. The grand lodge held a special session this evening in the oldhall on Sixth street for the admission of past grands to membership and at 9 p. m., a reception and banquet was given at the temple by the board of trustees of the Odd Fellows' Hall association to Grand Sire J. W. Stebbins of the sovereign grand lodge, at which there was present a number of distinguished members of this and other grand jurisdictions.

The annual session of the grand lodge well be held to-morrow and the dedicatory ceremonies will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

The city is in holiday attire in honor of the thousands of visitors. The reception committee estimates that 100,000 Odd Fellows will, directly, participate in the celebration.

A large delegation of patriarch militant reached here this morning from Boston and Maine. Cantons from Connecticut and Western Massachusettes, chevaliers from Williamsport, Scranton and other Pennsylvania cities, and 500 chevaliers from New York arrived during the day. A delegation from California arrived tonight and another is on its way from Texas.

Other arrivals to-day included delegations from the District of Columbia, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland.

The parade to-morrow, should the weather be favorable, promises to be a monstrous affair, as over 20,000 men are expected to be in line.

At the meeting of the grand encampment to-day the following officers were installed: Grand patriarch, F. L. B. Keefe, grand high priest, S. W. Jefferies; grand senior warden, W. H. Coggswell; grand scribe, J. B. Nicholson; grand treasrer, J. S. Henry Beitel; grand junior warden, J. H. Mackey; grand representative to the sovereign grand lodge, M. R. Mucle.

Let Everybody Attend.

The lecture in the Presbyterian chapel on Thursday evening by Mr. Arthur Kitson promises to be very interesting as well as instructive. The chapel should be crowded as no admission will be charged. It is very seldom that the citizens of Bellefonte can secure such noted lecturers as Mr. Kitson and they should now show their appreciation of his coming here by turning out en masse and give him a rousing reception. Of Mr. Kitson's works on "The Money Question," the Philadelphia Item of March 5, says:

The money question is just now occupying a great amount of the attention of the statesmen and financiers, not only of the United States, but of other countries, so that Mr. Kitson's work could not have come at a more opportune time. His contribution to the solution of the financial problems of the day is evidently the work of a man who has practical experience in the world of money, so that Mr. Kitson knows that whereof he writes. The intelligent reader who has given any thought to this question will find Mr. Kitson's work a wonderful help to him in forming his opinion. It is logical and clear throughout, and in every respect a valuable addition to the discussion of a question of far-reaching importance.

Explosion in a Mine.

Wilkesbarre, May 20.—An explosion of gas occured to-day in the Hoyt mine at Pittston, but fortunately none of the miners in the mine were injured. The gas accumulated in one of the chambers and ignited from a burning "blower." The doors, brattice work and other timbers in the mine were blown in every direction, cars were overturned and a general tearing up took place. The amount of damage done has not been made known. It will take several days to make the repairs in the meantime the miners will be idle.

Wilde's Partner Found Guilty.

London, May 21.—Alfred Taylor, who was indicted with Oscar Wilde, but whose trials were ordered separate, was found guilty to-day on several counts of the indictment. Court deferred sentence.

NO INCOME TAX.

United States Supreme Court Decides It Unconstitutional.

Washington, May 20.—Immediately on convening of the supreme court, Chief Justice Fuller began to read the income tax opinion. The fact that he read it was generally accepted as conclusive that the law would be knocked out in toto. The conclusions of the court were as follows:

First, We adhere to the opinion already announced that taxes on real estate being undisputably direct taxes, the taxes on the rents or income of real estate are equally direct taxes.

Third, The tax imposed by sections 27 to 37, inclusive, of the act of 1894, so far as it falls on the income of real estate and on personal property, being a direct tax within the meaning of the constitution, is therefore unconstitutional and void because not apportioned according to representation. All these sections, constituting one entire scheme of taxation, are necessarily invalid. The decrees herein before entered in this court will be vacated. The decrees below will be reversed and the cases remanded, with instructions to grant the relief prayed for.

Sections 27 to 37 of the tariff act of 1894, referred to in the conclusions of the court in the opinions, are all the sections of the act relating to the income tax, so that the entire income tax law is declared void specifically.

The vote on the income tax resulted five against the constitutionality of the law to four for the law. Those against the law were: Chief Justice Fuller and Justices Field, Gray, Brewer and Shiras. For the law: Justices Harlan, White, Brown and Jackson.

Important Opinion Handed Down.

Philadelphia, May 20.—In an opinion handed down by Justice Dean to-day the supreme court decided that the state is not entitled to receive one-half of the fees received by the register of wills, quarter sessions clerk, prothonotary and recorder of deeds, of Philadelphia. The Dauphin county court decided that one-half of the fees should be paid to the state, and the officers appealed, with the result that the decree of the lower court is reversed. Justice Dean's decision is based on the fact that the act of 1876 repealed the act of 1810, which gave half the fees to the state.

Had the judgment of the Dauphin county court been sustained, the city of Philadelphia would have had to pay to the commonwealth 50 per cent of the fees for about 18 years, which would have amounted to at least a million and half dollars. The county would also have been compelled to hereafter pay to the state 50 per cent. of the fees of their offices after the payment of salaries, etc.

K. of L. Building Sold.

Philadelphia, May 20.—For a long time efforts on the part of the Knights of Labor have been made to sell the building used as the headquarters of the general executive board on Broad street, this city, and occasionally rumors of a sale have been circulated, only to be denied. To-day, however, the property changed its owners, being conveyed to James Stout, a conveyancer, for a consideration of $40,000. The property cost the order $45,000. The building had been used as the general headquarters of the order for several years having been purchased while Mr. Powderly was the general master workman.

Assaulted Because He Would Not Loan Money.

Pittstown, Pa., May 20.—While returning home with his monthly pay, Joseph Grabik, residing at Smithville, was accosted by Samuel Brown, who asked the loan of $2. Upon being refused he proceeded to pummel Grabik. The latter proved too much for him, whereupon he drew a razor and endeavored to sever Grablik's head, cutting him from ear to ear. The woundman was taken to his home, where the surgeon pronounced his wounds fatal.

The Bill Killed.

Governor Hastings has vetoed the bill prohibiting the killing and capturing of quail, woodcock and pheasant for barter or sale. It was introduced at the request of the state sportmen's association. It allowed the killing of this class of game by sportsmen for their own eating and prohibited the serving of woodcock or other birds mentioned in the measure by restaurant and hotel keepers.

Twenty Years for Herricks.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 20.—George Herricks, convicted last week of murder in the second degree for complicity in the murder of Barney Reick, was arraigned this afternoon before Judge Woodward and sentenced to twenty years' solitary confinement in the Eastern penitentiary.

MARKSMEN OF N. G. P.

Requirements as Set Forth in General Orders Just Issued.

All the requirements of marksmen in the National Guard of Pennsylvania, are set forth in General Orders No. 16, just issued from the office of the Adjutant General at Harrisburg, to Asher Miner, general inspector of rifle practice. They are in effect as follows:

The current season for rifle practice opened May 1, and will close October 31. Practice will be required of every officer and enlisted man, and no commutation for rifle practice will be allowed any company that does not qualify its entire membership. All officers are requested to impress upon their men the importance of rifle practice and to urge them to strive for excellence and markmanship. Every soldier in Pennsylvania must become a marksman, for no soldier is effective unless he is able to qualify. If any company in the infantry or cavalry arms of the service falls to qualify as marksmen, its entire membership, unless satisfactory reasons are shown for such failure, shall be considered so lacking in efficiency as to warrant its disbandment.

Any men whom the instructor deems sufficiently practiced may enter for qualification. For qualifying, five consecutive shots are allowed at 200 yards and five at 500 yards. Re-entries are allowed until a score of twenty-five is made. When a score of twenty-five or more is once made the shooter is qualified for the year. If it be under forty-five he is a marksman, if forty-five or more then he is a sharpshooter. Re-entries for higher qualifying scores are prohibited.

It is understood that soldiers may practice from time to time during the season as frequently as the ammunition allowed him may admit of. But when he proposes to qualify he must declare his intention of so doing before he fires the first shot on his score, and the score thus made, provided it be twenty-five or over, must stand as his qualifying score.

For the year 1895, the maximum of fixed ammunition for target practice will be three thousand pounds, and of blank cartridges five hundred pounds. One thousand rounds of fixed ammunition will be forwarded for each company at the opening of the season without requisition. All empty shells will be returned to the State Arsenal, and no requisition for additional cartridges will be filled until the empty shells of ammunition previously furnished shall have been returned to the arsenal or duly accounted for.

During the year $50 will be allowed, as heretofore, to each company for support of rifle range, provided there are qualified the number of men herein required.

La Gascogne Behind Time.

New York, May 20.—The French line steamship, La Gascogne, was due in this port on Saturday night or early yesterday morning. She has not yet been sighted.

She left Havre at noon on May 11, and at midday on Saturday was seven days out. Although new engines were put in her in January to make her a seven days boat, she has not yet fulfilled that expectation. The recent reports of incoming steamships traveling the same course as La Gascogne do not indicate that she has met with bad weather. La Gascogne's long voyage last January is well remembered. She lay almost helpless for fourteen days with a broken piston rod, but finally reached port in safety.

Not Enough Land for a New County.

Harrisburg, May 20.—The commissioners appointed by the governor under the act of 1878 to survey and report on the proposed county of Grow, filed their report to-day. They find that there is not sufficient area in the proposed limits measuring from the court house at Wilkesbarre or from the limits of that city, to form a new county and therefore make a recommendation against it. The area required is 400 square miles, and they found about 322 square miles. The population was sufficient, being about 25,000. The expense of the commission approximates $3,000.

Died from Taking Rat Poison.

Oskaloosa, Ia., May 20.—Mrs. Warrick, living ten miles from here fed her three children rat poison, spread on bread with maple syrup and then took a large dose herself. Her husband, was absent at the time and on his return found his wife dead and the children dying. Domestic trouble is supposed to have unbalanced the woman's mind.

An attempt was made to hold a women's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms last night to make arrangements for the June picnic at Hecla park, but owing to the fact that so few were present, nothing of any importance was done.

Enforcing the Law.

The conviction of a railroad official in the United States Court yesterday for violation of the inter-State commerce law takes important rank as the first instance in which the penal provisions of the act have been successfully enforced against a railroad official. It is one of the ironies of that legislation to prevent discrimination between railroad shippers that the only preceding conviction under it was that of a shipper. It contains more assurance of the value of the act for preventing discriminations in rates that the United States Court in Pittsburg has finally presented the example of the enforcement of the law against an actual violator.

While there can be general recognition that the offender against the act committed his offense under the stress of general railway methods, it is necessary also to say that the verdict was correct. The testimony left no doubt that the rebate concealed under the guise of an allowance for drayage gave the favored shipper an advantage of 3 1-2c cents per hundred in freight rates over his competitor in the same line of shipments. This is exactly what the law forbids.

The law requires absolutely equal treatment of all shippers. This is necessary to the public character of the railroad and for the prevention of such gigantic injustices as have been committed in the past by preferences in freight rates. This verdict is a warning that the law is more than a dead letter and that railroad officials must respect it.

Centre County Boys Honored.

Brer David Wrote No Letter.

New York, May 16.—Senator David B. Hill was seen this morning by a United Press reporter in regard to the publication in a Chicago paper of the statement that Chairman Hinrichsen had in his possession a letter from Senator Hill which would be read before the democratic state currency commission next month. The tenor of the letter, it was said, was strongly in favor of free silver, and the statement was further made that it was believed by those "in the knowing" that it was intended by the New York statesmen as a bid for the support of Illinois in the democratic national convention in 1896, and that Mr. Hinrichsen had his eyes fixed on second place.

Senator Hill said: "It is all mere political gossip. There is not a word of truth in it. I have no acquaintance with Mr. Hinrichsen, and I have written him no letter whatever. It is only dignifying these rumors to deny them."

That School Appropriation.

Patriot: The petition appealing to Governor Hastings to keep intact the school appropriation is still being circulated in the house for signers. The promoters of the movement are much encouraged with the success of their efforts and have already secured the signatures of about 125 representatives. The only objection comes from the city members. It is now settled that the general appropriation bill will only provide an appropriation of $10,000,000 for the schools for the next two years. The rural members will try to insert an amendment in the bill increasing the amount to $11,000,000 when the measure comes up for consideration on third reading.

Can't be Beat.

The recent decision of the supreme court, which classed bicycles under the head of vehicles and made it obligatory for cyclers to pay toll on country roads, has aroused a storm of indignation among cyclers.

A cycler on one of the suburban roads out of Bellefonte, however recently hit upon a clever plan for the circumventing of the decision, and, hence, of the tollgate keepers. Coming to a tollgate during a spin along the road the cycler dismounted, picked up his wheel, slung it over his back and walked past the astonished gatekeeper. Arriving at the other side he again mounted his wheel and sped away.

New Epworth League.

Recently an Epworth League was organized in the Milesburg Methodist church with sixty-two members. It was organized with the assistance of Rev. J. W. Rue, pastor of the Bellefonte Methodist church. The president of the new organization is G. W. Zettle; secretary C. W. Smith. The first prayer-meeting was held last Sabbath evening and from present indictations it will grow, prosper and become one of the strong arms of the church.

FOUR BROTHERS ROSARIA.

The World's Greatest Gymnastic Wonders With the Walter L. Main Shows.

The Four Rosaria Brothers are the acknowledged leading acrobatic gymnasts of the world. They appear for the first time in this country this year with the Walter L. Main Grandest and Best Shows. The performance they give is simply astonishing. To describe it in detail would require more space than this article would allow, while a general description fails to do it the justice it deserves. It is in every way and particular superior to anything ever before seen in this country, for where all other acrobats leave off the Rosarias begin. They are by far the highest salaried artists in their line ever seen with a tented amusement, and can only be seen with these great shows which exhibit at Bellefonte giving two complete performances on May 28.

Of course there are a great many other features with the "Grandest and Best Shows." Gracie Thomas, the world's greatest lady rider, together with a half-dozen other equestriennes and gentlemen riders enough to push the total up to more than a score, including Frank Miller and Claude Orton, a double troupe of Royal Japanese, a herd of ponderous elephants and a drove of camels, the only riding lion the world has ever known, "Wallace." The magnificent free street parade takes place daily at 10 a. m., and contains ten kinds of music. More than a score of open dens of rare wild beasts are daily displayed, and all in all it is the greatest amusement enterprise that has ever been conceived by man.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Hon. A. O. Furst will address the Men's Meeting Sunday afternoon. Song service will begin at 4 o'clock. These gatherings are free to all men in every stage of life. The men of Bellefonte will make no mistake in going to hear Mr. Furst next Sunday. All will receive a hearty welcome.

A prominent business man in Scranton has given to that Association $25,000 as an endowment fund for manual training, and the directors have promised of subscriptions to add to this fund. The educational work in scores of our larger cities is coming to be a prominent feature in association work, and business men are realizing and appreciating it by giving liberally toward its support. They are not like many men, who in going to support such an institution look for a return in dollars and cents. They give believing the future generation will be benefitted by it. The man who serves Christ for gain betrays him as soon as he can get a better price.

Prof. and Mrs. J. J. Lane, of Philadelphia, noted solo and duet singers, have accepted an invitation, and will be present at the Young People's jubilee which will be held at Hecla Park, Thursday, June 20th. Mr. and Mrs. Lane are known to many Christian Endeavor and Epworth League members. They having sung at many conventions in this State. It will be worth the effort to hear them sing. Plan to attend this great gathering of young people.

500,000 young men banded together in thirty-five nations and isles of the sea speaking fifteen different languages, possessed of permanent prosperity amounting to fifteen millions of dollars, expending annually in their work over two millions, and with this money given by their friends and members, keeping open hospitable buildings and rooms in some three thousand cities and towns, and looking after the physical, mental, social and spiritual welfare of young men—this is the Young Men's Christian Association of to-day.

Every Month.

The accounts of the officials of Somerset county are now audited at the end of each month. The Myersville Commercial says: The county auditors on Monday commenced the work of auditing the accounts of the county officers for April. The new plan of auditing all of the accounts at the end of every month is apparently working well. The auditors are delighted with the smooth way their work is being accomplished and the officers are also pleased with the method.

No Money for Scalps.

Acting under instructions from their attorney and upon an opinion of Judge Baker, of Cambria county, the Centre county Commissioners have decided not to pay any more bounties on foxes, minks, owls, skunks, etc. The only scalps that will be paid for are those of wildcats and wolves.

This determination will save the county considerable money.

Skirts remain straight and round with godets and organ-pipe backs.

An Irish Letter.

Our young readers especially will enjoy perusing this racy letter and a good many of the old ones, too, no doubt. A good lesson in letter writing may be learned from this production:

TALLYMUSCLESCRAGG,
PARISH OF BALLYRAGGET,
NEAR BALLYSTUGGATHY,
COUNTY OF KILKENNY,
IRELAND, January the 11th.

MY DEAR NEPHEW:—I haven't sent ye a letter since the last time I wrote to ye, bekase we have moved from our former place of livin', and didn't know where a letther would find ye; but I now wit pleasure take up me pen to inform ye of yer own livin' uncle, Ned Fitzpatrick, who died very suddenly a few days ago, afther a lingerin' illness of six weeks. The poor fellow was in violent convulsions the whole time of his sickness, lyin' perfectly quiet and intirely speechless, all the while talkin' incoherently and cryin' for wather.

I had no opportunity of informin' ye of his death by the last post, which same went off two days before he died; and then ye would have had postage to pay.

I am at a loss to know what his death was occasioned by, but I fear it was by his last sickness, for he was niver well ten days at a time during the whole of his confinement, and I believe his death was brought about by his aitin' too much rabbit stuffed with pais and gravy, or pais and gravy stuffed with rabbit; but be that as it may, when he breathed his last the doctor gave up all hopes of his recovery. I needn't tell ye anything about his age for ye well know that in June next he would have been just seventy-five years old lackin' ten months, and had he lived till that time would have been just six months dead. His property now devolves to his next kin, which all died some time ago, so that I expect it will be between us; and ye know his property, which was very large, was sold to pay his debts, and the remainder he lost on a horse race; but it was the opinion of everybody at the time he would have won the race, if the baste he run against hadn't been too [illegible] him.

I niver saw a man in all my life, and the docthers all said so, that observed directions or took medicine better than he did. He said he would as lave drink bitter as sweet, if it had only the same taste as ipecakana and whiskey-punch if it only put him in the same humor for fightin'.

But poor soul! he will never ate or dhrink any more, and ye haven't a blin' relation in the world, except meself and yer two cousins who were kilt in the last war. I cannot dwell on the mournful subject any longer, and shall sale this letther with black salin' wax and put it into your uncle's coat-of-arms; so I beg ye not to brake the sale when ye open the letther, and don't open it until two or three days afther ye resave it, and by that time you will be well prepared for the sorrowing tidings. Yer old sweetheart sends her love unbeknownst to ye. When Jary McGhee arrives in America, ax him for this letther and if he don't brung it from amongst the rest, tell him it is the one that spakes of yer uncle's death and saled in black. I remain your affectionate old grandmother.

BRIDGET O'HOOLEGOIN.

P. S.—Don't write till ye resave this.

N. B.—When yez comes to this place, stop and don't read anymore 'til my next.

Weather Adversities.

The weather appears to carry with it a demonstration that the limits of undesirability cannot be calculated. The frost of Sunday night was supposed to be about as maligna as could be feared, but if the prediction of the Weather Bureau for a general freeze to-day is verified, the entire start of the crops will be lost. What will be left will be either the few late crops not yet developed enough to be killed by freezing, and the other crops which can be replanted and grown before the season ends.

The hope of overflowing yields which would stimulate business of all kinds and make this a year of plenty is assuming under the attacks of this erratic section of winter the character of a dissolving view. It only remains to cling to the hope that as the Weather Bureau missed its prediction of warmer weather Monday, it may make it even by failing to produce the full extent of the freeze scheduled for to-day. Beyond that slender hope the only thing that remains is to make the best of the adversities of the weather that are beyond control.

Gold in Pennsylvania.

From The Newton Hamilton Watchman.

The prospecting done in this town for gold quartz is very flattering. On Thursday a heavy blast on the second strata revealed a fine gray quartz that will evidently yield valuable mineral. The richest deposit seems to be in a black seam, having the appearance of burnt powder, with here and there visible deposits of silver in the grey rock. The rock looks like a cows horn and the entire rock seems to be of a fine quartz, carrying gold and silver all through it. It is the desire of those who have been working that a large attendance be at the meeting on Monday evening, when fine specimens will be exhibited and some action taken in regard to shipping a car load of the best rock to the quartz mill in order to have it thoroughly tested. This is the first time the Watchman has published its views on the gold question. We are satisfied that we have it, and in paying quantities. If any of our friends at a distance doubt our word, and know anything about gold bearing quartz, we say come here and make a thorough test for yourselves. We invite investigation.

Come and we will show you skeptics the wonders of the nineteenth century. We firmly believe that we have a quartz that will assay several ounces of gold to the ton of rock. J. F. Fields commenced digging a well on his farm on the Union Mills property and has struck a rich quartz rock, which is evidently a gold bearing deposit, samples of which he has brought us for inspection. This rock will evidently assay to the satisfaction of its owners.

The Star Spangled Banner.

Many interesting things about Francis Scott Key—the author of the Star Spangled Banner—are contained in a pamphlet, which may be obtained free, from the Key Monument Association of Frederick City, Maryland, by sending one 2 cent stamp for postage. This association is raising funds for a suitable monument to the poet, and they suggest, that in the schools and everywhere, upon or before Flag Day (June 14th), this subject be suitably recognized. Contributions, however small, are asked for. Every one who loves the Flag, ought to have some small share in building this monument. The Governor of Maryland has strongly endorsed the movement. The names of all contributors will be preserved in the crypt of the monument, and published (without amount) in the history of the monument when completed.

A LEGENDARY GOLD MINE.

Explorer Hanlon Claims to Have Found It in Somerset County.

The legend of old man Burket and his gold mine has been told for many years in that portion of Somerset county which lies on the eastern slope of the Allegheny mountains. The story goes that Burket, who was a famous hunter and trapper away back in the early part of the last century, had discovered a gold-bearing rock in the mountains near what is now New Baltimore. His cabin was located near the foot of the mountain, and he made frequent excursions into the rocky gulches which intersect its steep sides, from which he returned laden with the precious ore. He jealously guarded his secret, and when he was found dead in his cabin, the secret of the mine's location died with him. The mountains in that vicinity have since been explored by many who were anxious to locate this legendary mine, but always in vain.

Last summer an old prospector, who has spent the best part of his life in the gold regions of the west, heard the story and spent several weeks in the locality, and was favorably impressed with the geological formation of the region. He renewed his exploration several weeks ago and now claims that he has found the lost mine. Mr. Hanlon—for such is the explorer's name—passed through Johnstown the other evening on his way back from Philadelphia, where he had been to an assay made of some of the ore, which he claims proved to be rich in gold.

Mr. Hanlon exhibited some of the ore or quartz, which was a grayish rock and quite heavy. He promises some more developments in the near future.

Meeting of the Foresters.

Reading, May 15.—At this morning's session of the Ancient Order of Foresters, there was a lively discussion on the question of disolving the present endowment fund and creating a new one. The proposition is to create five classes known as A, B, C, D and E, the certificate to range from $500 to $8,000. The committee suggests that every member of the order be compelled to join the fund as they claim it would wipe out entirely the vexed financial question of funeral benefits. Many of the delegates participated in the debate and vigorously opposed it particularly the compulsory feature. It was finally decided to refer the matter to the respective courts, and that they report to the grand secretary one month hence.

Bessie Bellwood Had to Pay.

London, May 15.—Bessie Bellwood, the well known music hall singer, as the result of a suit brought against her by a physician, has been sentenced to pay him £40 as compensation for the attendance upon the late notorious Marquis of Ailesburg, while the latter was living at her house. The Marquis of Ailesbury, one of the most prominent of the "black sheep" of the British nobility, died April 10, 1894. He married Dolly Trester, of the Alhambra chorus, from whom he afterwards separated. His struggles against bankruptcy proceedings, for some years before his death, and the negotiations for the sale of his magnificent estate of Savernake Wiltshire, attracted widespread attention.

Labor Organizations Combine.

Denver, May 15.—The most important work accomplished in many years in the interest of organized labor has been consummated by the convention of the Western Federation of Miners. The Coal Miners' union (representing thousands of men in several western and northwestern states) was admitted to membership in the federation. The step was made without any extended discussion and the proposition to admit carried by a heavy majority. The result of this action will be that the federation, which has over 40,000 of a membership, will be greatly increased in numbers and financial standing.

He was Crazy.

Philadelphia, May 15.—Eli Williams, colored, this morning, started a fire in the cellar of his residence No. 129 North Jupiter street, and then hit his wife Mary, who was asleep in bed, on the head with an axe. As a final to the tragedy the negro committed suicide by blowing out his brains with an old musket. Although the woman's skull was crushed in, she ran to the street in her night clothes and gave the alarm, and the fire was soon extinguished. Williams was probably insane. The woman has a compound fracture of the skull, and the physicians have no hope of her recovery.

James Nutt Found Guilty.

Atchison, Kan., May 15.—James Nutt, who shot N. L. Dukes in Pennsylyania eleven years ago, and who has been on trial here on the charge of attempting to take the life of Leonard Calnan, was found guilty to-night. The defense was insanity as it was in the Dukes case. At the time Nutt assaulted Colnan he also assaulted Mrs. Jessie Peyton, and will be arraigned to-morrow to answer the other charge.

Severely Burned.

Huntingdon, Pa., May 15.—During a fire in a railroad boarding house, at Osterburg, Bedford county, early this morning Charles Murphy, a Midland railroad foreman, was burned to a crisp, and two austrians were so badly burned that they cannot live. Twenty or more inmates of the house made narrow escapes with their lives.

THE GOLDEN EAGLES.

A Number of Recommendations of the Grand Chief Adopted.

Williamsport, May, 15.—At the morning session of the grand castle of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, the following recommendations of the grand chief were adopted: That the honors of past chief be conferred upon the first fifteen officers of each castle instituted during the year, provided the membership is fifty at the end of the first term; that the dispensation granted to castles instituted during the year be approved and charters be granted in lieu thereof, the same to be signed by me; that obituary pages be set apart in the journal in memory of the past chiefs who died during the year; that an appropriation of $1,000 be made to the grand chief for the purpose of paying expenses as such; that an appropriation of $500 be made for organizing and instituting new castles; that 1,500 copies of the proceedings be printed; that $200 be appropriated to the Knights of the Golden Eagle.

That $200 be appropriated to the military branch. That the per capita tax be continued at fifteen cents. That the supreme representative be instructed to make and support a resolution to confer upon district grand chiefs and grand instructors the titles of past district grand chief and past grand inspector, adopting suitable badges for them in recognition of three years' continuous service. That a special committee of three be appointed to revise the constitution embodying the recent action of the supreme castle, likewise the digest and decision of grand chiefs, approved by the grand castle, to report at the next session.

Those castles which do not pay funeral benefits on the assessment plan are advised to enact a by-law providing that when their exchequer is below a fixed amount an assessment of 50 cents be levied to pay funeral benefits in order that the sum of $300 (or such sum as may be determined) may always be available for sick benefits.

That the grand castle adopt proper means to prevent the proposed increment of per capita to the supreme castle next October, by requesting all past grand chiefs of this state to vote against it.

Four Men Arrested for Murder.

Wilkesbarre, May 15.—On Nov. 17, 1893, Barney Reick, a wealthy produce dealer, was found in the Delaware and Hudson yards in this city with a broken neck and other injuries from which he died the next day. He had been lured from his home under the pretext that a man had a car of potatoes to sell. No clue was found to his assailant until Jan. 15 of this year, when detectives secured evidence which warranted the arrest of James Hendricks, Michael Kearney, John J. Robinson and James Fisher, all railroad men. Hendricks was the first selected for trial. The other three will be tried at the June term.

Searcey Plead Guilty.

Stafford C. H., Va., May 15.—Charles Searcey was arraigned to-day for his participation in the Aquia creek train robbery and pleaded guilty. After a statement by the commonwealth's attorney, which was that the state had agreed with Searcey that if he would confess he should have only five years in the penitentiary, and a statement from Searcey in his own behalf, the jury returned a verdict of guilty and fixed his term of confinement at eight years. Searcey was at once sentenced and will be taken to the penitentiary on Friday.

Work of Insurgents.

New York, May 15.—The Herald's dispatch from Nassau, N. P., says: "The insurgents have burned the stores and residences of Spaniards in the vicinity of Jaraguega, Cuba. The coffee plantation of one Spaniard, who is especially objectionable, was totally destroyed. A band of 300 insurgents, commanded by Quinton Bander, was intrenched near Santana beyond St. Louis. They were attacked by the Government troops. The insurgents were victorious. Gervasio Rodriguez, an insurgent leader, has deserted and joined the Government forces.

The Income Tax.

New York, May 15.—A Washington dispatch says: The Supreme Court has determined to absolutely annihilate the income tax law. This statement is made on what appears to be absolutely reliable authority. It is, of course, impossible to say officially what will be the decision of the courts in advance of its announcement but the report comes from such a source as to leave very little room for doubt as to its accuracy. It was learned that some of the justices have changed their opinions on the reargument.

Probably Lost in the Mine.

Wilkesbarre, May 15,—M. Kolauski, of Chicago, came to Plymouth two weeks ago in search of work. Some few days ago he found employment as a laborer in No. 12 colliery. On Monday morning he went into the mine, but at night he failed to return to his boarding house. Being unacquainted with the workings, it is believed that he wandered away in some abandoned opening and has been lost. Searching parties were sent out yesterday and to-day, but up to this evening nothing has been seen of him.

The Peerless Gracie Thomas.

How many of the thousands who have seen the charming Gracie Thomas go dashing around the circus ring ever stop to think of the other side of the thoroughly accomplished equestrian? It is possible they do not give a moment's thought to the many hours of tiring, never ceasing practice she has been compelled to endure in order to become the most perfect in the world in her chosen profession. Her life has been a most eventful one, filled with experiences which, if put in a book, would read not unlike a fairy tale. In a recent interview, when this little woman was more talkative than usual, for she seldom speaks about herself, she briefly tolu the newspaper correspondent how she came to enter the profession. "It would be a long story," she said, "if I were to go into the details, but if you really want an interview I will tell you how I came to enter the profession. I was born in a small Western town; my father being a stock dealer with an almost unlimited number of horses, it was the most natural thing in the world that I should, early in life, learn to ride. We lived fifty miles from a railroad and I knew comparatively nothing of the outside world. When I was sixteen years of age my father died and after the estate was settled up my mother herself absolutely without means. We had all supposed that father was wealthy and you can easily guess what a shock it was to us to find ourselves penniless. During the summer following father's death a small circus came to the town where we lived. I had never seen a circus in all my life, so that nothing could have been further from my mind than the thought of some day being a member of one. The morning of the day the circus was to exhibit in B—— a party of young folks, including myself, mounted our horses and met the caravan a couple of miles out on the country road. We had been racing and I was, perhaps, a mile and a half in advance of the others. A gentleman coming from the opposite direction addressed me asking if he was on the right road to B——. During the conversation which followed he told me that he was owner of the circus and offered me a situation as "Manage" rider. That is a lady who rides in a sitting position. After a great deal of persuasion I gained mother's consent and that day I entered upon my new life. The following winter I went to riding school and was taught to ride in a standing position. A long crane like contrivance was placed in the center of the ring, a rope with a belt attached to one end and a man holding the other was run through pulleys attached to the crane, the belt being placed around my waist, thus making a dangerous fall impossible. It was remarkable the rapidity with which I learned to accomplish the various tricks and feats shown me by my tutor.

"The following year I went to Europe and was appearing with a circus in Paris when an agent in the employ of Walter Main saw my performance. He immediately sought me out and I signed a contract to come to the United States as one of the features of Manager Main's shows for the season of 1895. At the close of this season I will again return to Europe to fill contracts to appear before the crowned heads of a number of foreign countries, including the Czar of Russia. O yes, I would much prefer to remain at home, but you see there is an opportunity to ride both summer and winter over and that is quite an inducement, as I shall not care to always be expected to appear before an audience. My present engagement is by far the most pleasant I have ever had. I am provided with a private state-room in the parlor car and every convenience that can be had is given me. Another thing about Mr. Main's shows is the fact that he employs only ladies and gentlemen, and one is not forced to associate with the tented amusements."

Miss Gracie Thomas is one of the few ladies in the circus profession who carries a retinue of servants and owns her own horses. She is said to be quite a wealthy young woman.

He Didn't Tie His Mules.

Clearfield Public spirit: A countryman stepped into the Winsor hotel on Monday and was invited to listen to the music in phonograph. He had never seen and perhaps never heard of this invention. He placed tubes in each ear and immediately the crank began to turn and the music commenced. Bill threw down the tubes and said excitedly: "There comes a brass band and I didn't tie my mules." He hurried out to look after them.

Was Instantly Killed.

Newport, Pa., May 15.—Yesterday, about noon, W. Hanes, of Perry Valley, was instantly killed by a heavy piece of timber falling upon him. At the time he was assisting in tearing down an old barn. Deceased was a prominent peach grower in this vicinity and leaves a wife and one child.

Williamsport, Pa., May 16.—The Knights of the Golden Eagle will meet in Altoona next year. The selection was made at the meeting here to-day by a vote of 202 to 110.

Was Dragged to Death.

A dispatch from Lewistown gives the following particulars of the horrible death of a young lady near that place a few days since: As Miss Ida, daughter of Solomon Knepp, was driving from her father's home to Siglerville, accompanied by her younger sister, the horse became restless and turned in the road. The girls became timid and pulled the wrong line, and, thinking the vehicle was in danger of upsetting, the younger jumped out and the elder sister in attempting to do so caught her foot in a wire stretched across the inside of the buggy to keeep the box together.

She fell face downward between the wheels and was dragged an eighth of a mile over a piked road. Her face was battered almost beyond recognition, some of her fingers were almost severed by the wheels passing over them and she was otherwise injured. When the horse was stopped by two men and was released life was found to be almost extinct. She died in a few minutes after being taken into a neighboring farm house. Her age was about 17 years.

The firemen are daily receiving acceptances from companies who will come to Bellefonte to participate in the big parade and contests on the 7th.

If the Volmer Bros., of Harrisburg, are engaged to do the decorating Bellefonters will witness the handsomest decorations they ever saw in the town.

One of the prominent features of that occasion will be the evening pyrotechnic display. Over three hundred dollars will be spent for this part alone and the figures and set pieces will be grand.

As the time for the celebration is now less than three weeks distant the association of committees should hold meetings every evening to compare notes on the progression of the work and receive suggestions as to proper direction of the entire affair.

Bellefonte's Centennial.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, June 5th, 6th and 7th, are the days fixed for celebrating the hundredth anniversary of the founding of Bellefonte, and the indications are that they will be the three biggest days in the history of the town.

One feature of the occasion will be the annual meeting of volunteer firemen, on Wednesday and Thursday, June 5th and 6th.

Messrs. A. S. Garman, chairman, and H. J. Jackson, Secretary of the Committee on Arrangements, were in this city Wednesday evening, conferring with Lock Haven firemen in reference to the celebration and it is quite probable that one or more of the companies will go to Bellefonte and take part in the parade.

The attendance of Lock Haven people at the celebration will no doubt be large.—Lock Haven Express.

Miriam Reber Shot.

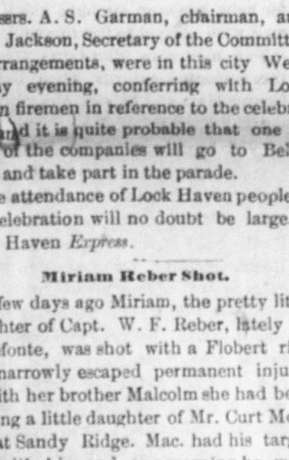

A few days ago Miriam, the pretty little daughter of Capt. W. F. Reber, lately of Belefonte, was shot with a Flobert rifle and narrowly escaped permanent injury.

With her brother Malcolm she had been visiting a little daughter of Mr. Curt Moyer, at Sandy Ridge. Mac. had his target rifle with him and one morning he went into a store out there and laid it down on the counter. His little sister entered a few moments later with Mr. Moyer's little daughter. The latter picked the gun up and had no sooner done so, than it went off, the bullet striking Miriam in the temple. It made an ugly wound, though not dangerous. Had it been a little lower she would have lost an eye.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, May 30, 1895.

From our Regular Correspondent.)

Circumstances unimportant in themselves have brought republican Presidential possibilities very much to the front in Washington during the past few days. Ex-Speaker Reed was in Washington for a few hours last week, and although his visit was to see a sick friend—Representative Hitt, of Ill.,—it started Presidential gossip, as he is generally recognized as one of the leading candidates for the republican nomination. Gen. Harrison's visit to New York has also furnished food for gossip. Col. Michener, of Ind., a close friend of Gen. Harrison's, who has a law office in Washington, says of that visit: "Gen. Harrison has been to New Jersey to receive a medal from the Historical society of that State, and is now in New York to sit for a portrait which is to be hung in the white house. That is his real business in New York, although he may also attend to some law business." When asked bluntly whether Gen. Harrison was a candidate for the nomination Col. Michener replied:" He says he is not," and changed the subject.

Ex-Senator Warner Miller, of New York at present in Washington, says on the subject of the next republican nominee: "I don't think there has been any effort to get together on the part of the leading men of the party to come to an understanding. It would be much better to let the leading men go to the convention and have the question of a nominee decided there. Any attempt at ringing in any one in advance will fail, as it ought to fail. It would not be wise for any one to attempt such a thing, and I don't believe the attempt will be made, leaders will not do it and if others attempt to do so they will not succeed." Speaking of the general outlook, Mr. Miller said: "Everything points to republican victory. The democratic party has disappointed the people, showing an incapacity for government. The democracy is not progressive. It is composed of obstructionists."

The administration's "sound money" platform is to include an endorsement of the repeal of the Federal tax on currency urged by State banks, although the last Congress, overwhelmingly democratic as it was, refused to pass a bill repealing that tax, or to adopt that admendment to the tariff bill for its repeal. There has been and is much doubt that Mr. Cleveland wishes the country to believe he means by "sonnd money" a single gold standard is what he wants, but he has so far lacked the courage to say so in plain words, as Secretary Morton did—but there is no doubt about what the repeal of the State bank tax means. It means wild cat money, issued by irresponsible people, which would be about as unsound money as could be put into circulation. Mr. Cleveland's present advocacy of the repeal of this tax is merely an attempt to get the support of the Southern democrats who say they favor the free coinage of silver but the silver men are already charging that the repeal of the State bank tax would have been accomplished at the last session of Congress had not Mr. Cleveland's influence been used to prevent.

The mails of the Department of Justice are full of letters of complaint from U. S. Court officials, who find it difficult to understand why their salaries are not paid. This is only another illustration of democratic ideas of economy. When the democratic Congress cut $157,000 from the amount estimated to be needed to pay the expenses of the Department of Justice, which pays all U. S. courts, officials and witness fees and other expenses of U. S. courts, for the current fiscal year, the seven by nine statesmen chuckled and called themselves reformers. Now, as a consequence deputy marshals, bailiffs and other necessary employs of the courts cannot get their salaries and the families of some of them are reported to be in distress, and when the next Congress meets it will have to make a deficiency appropriation to pay them. Meanwhile these people will have to work without getting their salaries, until the first of August, when they will receive their July salaries out of the appropriation for the next fiscal year.

Ex-Senator Higgins, of Delaware, is in Washington. He says he has not the slightest doubt about the seating of his republican successor, Senator-elect Dupont; that he has received the opinion of a number of the leading constitutional lawyers and they all agree that the Speaker of the Delaware Senate ceased to have the right to act as Speaker when he became the governor of the State.

Members of the administration will not talk about the Supreme Court's decision in the income tax cases, but it is easy enough to guess how they feel about it; there is no occasion for them to express themselves.

A Hint to the Farmers.

The cold weather, some sensational stories about the ravages of the Hessian fly and a skilfull manipulation of the telegraph wires by a combination of bull operators have created a wheat boom and prices have been jumping skyward for the last few days. If the farmers could be assured of present prices for their new crop of wheat they would look at this world and its belongings through a rosy medium rather than through the blue glasses that have obscured their vision of late.

For it may be taken for granted that the stories of serious damage to wheat by the frost are the merest moonshine. The wheat in the frost belt has reached neither the blossom nor the milk stage, the only condition in which it can be injured seriously by frost. It is probable, too, that the Hessian fly stories have about as little foundation as the frost scare. The real dangers to the wheat crop are in the future and may never manifest themselves.

The present price is not an exhorbitant one for wheat, however, and if it should be maintained and the farmers should realize eighty cents and even a higher rate for a full crop no one will begrudge them improved prosperity. But they should make quite sure that the dollars they receive for their wheat this year and in the future are hundred-cent and not fifty-cent dollars. Wheat that brings fifty cents a bushel will buy quite as much of other things as wheat which sells for a dollar that is worth only fifty cents.

Centennial Notes.

The centennial is moving along in pretty fair shape, although it must be admitted that everybody is not taking the interest in the movement and doing the amount of work they should. In order to make the day a full and decided success it is necessary that every person who can do so, should work, and work hard. There should be no laggards or "hold backs," but let everyone have for their motto the one word "push," and then endeavor to live up to the fullest standard of that motto.

Five hundred invitations have been sent out to all the various societies and organizations in Centre and surrounding counties and already acceptances are beginning to come in; and the prospect is that Bellefonte will have the largest crowd within its confines on that day ever known in the history of the town.

All the committees report everything in their line of work moving along fairly well, but, as the time is now growing short, it will be necessary to get an extra hustle on.

The industrial parade promises to be a great feature of the day, and a cadet corps organized by members of the Knights of the Golden Eagle and to be made up of about one hundred gaily uniformed and well drilled boys will be another feature. All in all there is every evidence of a gloriously good and successful time. Therefore, boom the movement all you can, and in every way you can.

Golden Wedding.

On Thursday, May 16, 1895, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rearick, residing at Jacksonville, Centre county, celebrated their fiftieth marriage anniversary. The occasion was one that will long be remembered. Seventy-eight children, grandchildren, relatives and friends were in attendance. The aged and respected couple were remembered by the presentation of valuable and numerous gifts of various kinds, and each of the children, ten in number, were remembered by the parents with a ten dollar gold piece. Death never invaded this family and the children are all married.

MR. FRANK MILLER.

The Famous Rider a Feature of the Walter L. Main Show.

Mr. Frank Miller, who is one of the notable features with The Great Walter Main Shows, is not only the best male rider the world has ever known but is an artist with an international reputation. He has appeared before the crowned heads of Europe, and would never permit his name to be identified with any but the very best tented amusements. Mr. Miller is the embodiment of grace. His work is so cleverly done that it has the appearance of excessive ease. He springs upon the back of a swiftly running horse as readily as the ordinary man mounts a chair. His thrilling riding creates a furore. He conquers his audience by the mastery of his art. Long after the show has come and gone, admiring thousands dilate on the marvel of his performance. This worthy rider is in worthy company. He is surrounded by the strongest array of American and European arenic stars ever gathered together. Innumerable great features enchain the attention of the audience. Schools of educated ponies, goats, pigs and baby elephants; a double troupe of royal Japanese; thrilling aerial acts by the greatest of all aerial performers, Stirk and Zeno and many others; equestrian acts by more than a score of justly celebrated lady and gentlemen riders; arenic sports and pastimes of ancient Rome together with a real Roman hippodrome. The only elephant riding lion and numerous other features. The entire show will exhibit at Bellefonte May 28.

Highway Robbery.

The DuBois Express of Friday evening says: A woman named Mrs. Birge, accompanied by a small child, got off a train at Falls Creek yesterday afternoon. She was from Keating, Clinton county, and was in search of employment as a domestic. Two men met the woman near the station, and represented to her that they had a lumber camp a short distance from town, and needed a cook. They offered to pay her $6.50 per week. The two men asked her to walk to the camp, saying that it was not far away, and that they would send back a wagon for her baggage. Suspecting no harm, the woman started with the men. After walking a while one of the men asked the woman if she could change a $5 bill. She did not think she could, but got out her pocketbook to see. One of the men thereupon relieved her of the purse. Not content with committing highway robbery, the fiends attempted to criminally assault the unfortunate female. Her cries for help, however, brought relief, and the men were obliged to flee to avoid capture.

Two men were afterwards arrested as the suspected culprits. Their names are George Hart and Patrick McQuown.

The woman is still in DuBois.

Blair County's Monument.

The design which has been prepared for the proposed Blair county soldiers' monument provides for an elaborate and massive work of masonary, resembling a fort on which is erected a high round tower, standing fifty feet from the ground to the top. The dimensions of the base of the monument are eighteen by twenty-fest. It will contain a large room, in which it is intended to store and preserve war relics of Blair county's heroes. This part of the monument looks something like a strong fort, and will have massive bronze doors. It will be constructed of mountain stone and Indiana limestone. Greenwood cemetery, Altoona, seems to have the lead as a location for the monument.

Every Man's Lecture.

All business men, lawyers, politicians and others interested in the "Money Question," which is the question today, should attend the free lecture to be given in the Presbyterian chapel on this Thursday evening, May 23, at eight o'clock. Ladies, of course, are also cordially urged to attend. Mr. Arthur Kitson, of Philadelphia, is the lecturer. This gentleman has made a special study of his subject for years and his books and articles which have been published from time to time have been received with very favorable comment. He is lecturing constantly in Philadelphia and other cities, before institutes and business men's organizations.

Presented to the Governor.

The memorial was signed by 122 members of the House, representing sixty-two of the sixty-seven counties of the State. The counties whose members refused to sign are Centre, Perry, Venango, Washington, Philadelphia and Allegheny in part.

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

In a Critical Condition.

Monday's Tyrone Herald says: A young lady sixteen or seventeen years of age, named Mary Holder, who lives with her grandmother, Mrs. John Holder, at Spruce Creek, and who is the daughter of Hays Holder of Bellefonte, came to Tyrone from Spruce Creek on the mail train Saturday afternoon intending to return in the evening. After visiting the family of Benj, Marshner, she was on her way down town about 5 o'clock when she was suddenly taken ill on Eleventh street between Pennsylvania and Blair avenues and fell to the pavement. She was picked up and conveyed to the home of Thomas Bell on Blair avenue where she has been working in spasms ever since with but little hope if any for her recovery. Friends from Bellefonte and Spruce Creek are here, who are rendering all the care and attention possible to the young lady in her almost hopeless condition.

The Union Fire Company Will be Represented.

The Union Fire company held a specia meeting Saturday evening and elected delegates to attend the annual tournament at Bellefonte June 6th. H. H. Beringer and W. L. Johnston were elected to represent. The matter of the company attending the reunion was also discussed and the sentiment seemed to be strongly in favor of the company attending, notwithstanding it was voted otherwise at a meeting held one evening last week. Fully twenty members of the company have signified their intention of attending the reunion and the probabilities are they will go in uniform, although they will not take any apparatus. The distance to Bellefonte and the inconvenience of reaching there are serious objections among the firemen to attending and taking apparatus.—Du-Bois Courier.

A Lincoln Anecdote.

At one time Lincoln and a certain judge were bantering each other about trading horses, and it was agreed that the next morning at 9 o'clock they should make a trade and there was to be no backing out, under penalty of $25.

At the hour appointed the judge came up, leading the sorriest looking specimen of a horse ever seen in those parts. In a few minutes Mr. Lincoln was seen approaching with a wooden sawhorse on his shoulders. Great were the shouts and laughter of the crowd and both were greatly increased when Mr. Lincoln, on surveying the judge's animal, set down his sawhorse and exclaimed:

"Well judge, this is the first time I ever got the worst of it in a horse trade."

MAKING PROGRESS.

Bellefonte's Big Celebration to be a Success.

A meeting of the different committees on the arrangements for the coming centennial was held in the arbitration room at the court house on Tuesday evening. The committees on finance and pardae reported much progress, stating that the citizens were lending a helping hand and that from all indications the celebration will be a complete success in every particular. Already many fire companies have sent acceptances of invitations and the probability is that Bellefonte is going to witness the greatest event of her life. The hotels are about all engaged for the occasion and almost every boarding house in town is hired by the coming visitors. Almost every exchange is giving accounts of meetings being held in the different towns to make arrangements to attend the Bellefonte Centennial and it is to be hoped that the citizens in general will extend so cordial a welcome to her centennial visitors that even after the celebration is over they will be loth to leave.

Will be Well Represented.

A special meeting of the fire department was held at department headquarters last evening.

The object of the meeting was to ascertain, if possible, how many from the different companies would be sure to attend the district convention at Bellefonte on June 6th, but nothing that was sure as to the number could be settled upon. The Volunteer and VanTassel companies are the only ones that are sure of going as a whole. The remainder of the companies will all send some men but not as companies. A committee to arrange the details of transportation, as to leaving, and returning, etc., was appointed and requested to report Friday next. District President Smith, of Houtzdale, was present and addressed the meeting on the affairs of the district in general and his remarks were well received by the firemen present.

There is a desire on the part of many of the firemen to get a special train. If a special can be secured they can return the same day they leave home and in that event there is little doubt of the attendance numbering less than from 250 to 300. There will be a report on this Friday evening.—Tuesday's Debois Courier.

Mary Holder Dead.

Miss Mary Holder, the young lady who was attacked by a spasm on Eleventh street Saturday afternoon and carried to the home of Thomas Bell on Blair avenue, died this morning at five minutes past 2 o'cock. She was afflicted with uræmia, or acute Bright's disease, an affection of the kidneys resulting from scarlet fever with which she had been afflicted within the past year. The immediate cause of death was uræmic spasm, which came upon her every few minutes from the time she fell at 5 o'clock on Saturday evening until she died this morning.

Deceased was the daughter of Hayes Holder of Bellefonte. Her mother died when she was a mere child, and she was reared by her grandmother, Mrs. Martha Holder, at Spruce Creek. Mrs. Holder is now critically ill at her home in that village. Mary Holder was about 17 years old. She came to Tyrone on the afternoon train Saturday, and had intended returning home the same evening.

The remains of the deceased were taken to Spruce Creek on the 2.35 train this afternoon, and will be buried at that place to-morrow.—Tyrone Herald.

—The ladies of Coleville will hold an ice cream festival in their chapel next Saturday evening, May 25th All are invited.

—The music that was furnished on the streets to-day was far above the average, and showed much skill on the part of the players.

—Miss Maggie Teats has secured a position as an assistant in the Telephone Exchange. There must be another wedding on the list.

—Rev. Samuel Creighton, formerly of Lock Haven, will preach in the Methodist church, both morning and evening on Sunday, the 26th inst.

—On the day of the firemen's convention the Bellefonte fire department will appear in great style. The Undines wil have four gaily caparisoned black horses pulling their steamer, four white horses in the hose truck and two in the cart. The Logans will have four just as handsome ones attached to their steamer, four in their truck and one in the cart. This, in itself, will make a good parade.

—The president and secretary of the Central District Association of Volunteer Firemen, which is to meet in annual convention at Bellefonte the 5th and 6th o next month, have announced that the address of welcome will be delivered by William E. Gray, burgess of the town, and the response will be by Alexander Smith, president of the association. Invitations are being sent out urging many of those known to be leading supporters of the volunteer departments to be present at the convention.

Bellefonte Centennial.

The Bellefonte School Board, having generously granted the North Ward School Building for the Exhibition of Relics, Heirlooms and other curiosities, it is desirable to obtain as large a collection as possible, and the committee appeals to every citizen, not only in the town, but throughout the county, to hunt up all such articles within reach and notify the chairman of the committee, who will arrange for their delivery, reception and safe keeping. Suitable cases will be provided for their exhibition and preservation. All who have not been visited by the canvassing ladies please report without delay to

Your Physical Condition

Needs attention at this time. If you are tired, weak and nervous, it is clear that your blood is impure, and without doubt there has been too much over-work or strain on brain and body. The course of treatment for such a condition is plain and simple. The blood must first be purified so that the nervous system, and in fact all the organs will be fed upon pure blood. Intelligent people without number have testified that the best blood purifier, nerve tonic and strength imparting medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Nervousness, loss of sleep and general debility all vanish when Hood's Sarsaparilla is persistently taken; in a word, health and happiness follow after taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A Good Indication.

Medical practitioners of prominence are prescribing for the cure of diseases springing from derangement of the digestive organs, Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. This professional endorsement is justified by the fact that no other preparation has been found so efficacious in that class of disorders even in the most advanced and severe cases. It has cured gravel in the kidneys, stone in the bladder and inflamation of the kidneys, where all other medicines had failed. It can be purchased of any druggist. A book is wrapped about each bottle, explaining its use.

To Defeat the Woods Bill.

The Williamsport Sun is making a desperate attempt to defeat the Woods water works bill, by printing protest coupons to be signed and returned to the office from which place they will then forward them to Governor Hastings with the request that he veto the bill. There should be some sort of a prize added to the coupons, and there would be more responses from subscribers.

Band Tournament.

The residents of Philipsburg are going to hold a band tournament in June, and the prospects are that it will be a most successful affair. The Philipsburgers are hustlers and the success achieved in their former celebrations clearly demonstrates that when they take hold of anything, they get up in the morning. May they have a glorious time and a large turnout.

WALTER L. MAIN'S HOLIDAY.

The Coming of the Grandest and Best Shows on Earth. A Real Holiday.

Every one is on the "qui vive" over the fact that The Great Walter L. Main Shows are coming to Bellefonte May 28. This biggest of all big shows has everywhere met with the most enthusiastic reception, and the press of other cities do not hesitate in proclaiming it the most wonderful exhibition ever seen under canvas. In point of novelty or in the number of features, no other amusement enterprise can even approach it. Its many exclusive features make it beyond question the representative big shows of the world. It requires four massive trains of especially constructed cars to transport it from town to town, four of the most thoroughly equipped and handsomely decorated advertising cars ever built are brought into service to herald its coming. and more than one thousand people employed, besides three hundred of the finest horses ever owned by any amusement institution. There are three rings, two elevated stages and a quarter-mile hippodrome track all going at one time during the performance. The zoological display contains more rare wild beasts than any other two shows, and the largest water proof tents ever constructed are required to properly give this massive entertainment and accommodate the vast audiences which daily throng to see the many wonders contained in these shows that can be seen nowhere else on earth.

Prohibition Convention.

A small sprinkling of prohibitionists from various parts of the county met in convention in the court house at 10 o'clock this morning, and organized by electing Rev. J. Zeigler chairman and N. S. Bailey secretary.

The convention was called for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention in Pittsburg and the following were chosen:

Delegates—John D. Gill, Jr., Rush township; Jonathan Packer, Boggs; J. W. Mattern, Philipsburg; C. C. Shuey, Bellefonte; Wm. H. Long, Howard; John I. Thompson, State College.

Alternates—John D. Gill, Sr., Rush township; W. T. Bair, Philipsburg; Geo. R. Roan, College; Jared Harper, Bellefonte; W. A. Hartsock, Huston; Rev. G. W. Leisher, Boalsburg.

Rev. J. Zeigler and Dr. Isaac Guss were continued as members of the State Executive Committee.

It was the sense of the convention that it would be inexpedient to hold another convention for the purpose of nominating the county ticket, and the county executive committee was empowered to make the nominations.

With the adoption of a few wholesome resolutions the convention adjourned.

Another Rush for Land.

Guthrie, O. T., May 21.—The publication of the president's proclamation opening the Kickapoo Indian country to settlement created great excitement in this section. Everything from a horse to a bicycle is being got in readiness for the coming race for farms, which bids fair to equal the great rush to the Cherokee strip.

Next Thursday at noon 132,000 acres will be thrown open to settlement. Eighty-three thousand acres have been reserved for school land purposes, but Governor Renfrey has given out word that he will immediately throw open the school lands. This fact will help hundreds of people to get in on the ground floor in Thursday's race.

Trains are already bringing in hundreds of prospective settlers and it is estimated that by to-morrow night 75,000 will be ining the borders of the Kickapoo country.

It Was English You Know.

London, May 21.—The Marquis of Queensbury met his son, Lord Alfred Douglas, in Picadilly shortly after the conclusion of the Taylor trial this afternoon when he stopped him and abused him roundly for continuing to uphold Oscar Wilde. A vehement exchange of violent language ensued and the quarrel was rapidly reaching the point of blows when the police broke through the large crowd which had collected and stopped the row. Both Lord Queensbury and his son were arrested and taken to the police station. After a short detention in the station they were released. Another report has it that the Marquis and Lord Alfred fought in the street with sticks and fists, the son getting much the worse of it. The Marquis upon leaving that station house showed traces of having been in an affray. He was cheered by the crowd until he drove off in a cab.

Is Well Worth Study.

Of Mr. Kitson, who will lecture in the Presbyterian chapel Thursday evening on "The Money Question," the New York World says:

Books on the money question are multiplying, but "A Scientific Solution of the Money Question," by Mr. Arthur Kitson, the latest, is one well-worthy the study, and the careful study, of every person who wishes to take an entire survey of the field occupied by the science of economics of which the subject of exchanges is a branch. Few readers of Mr. Kitson will accept all of his views, but his work is original, thoughtful, honest and conservative.

A GHASTLY DISCOVERY.

The Dead Body of a Man Found Near Fowler Station.

On Wednesday afternoon Benjamin Walk, a resident of Taylor township, while getting firewood in a piece of woods adjoining the railroad near Fowler station, was horrified to discover the dead body of a man lying on the ground at the foot of a tree. The body was lying on its right side with the head resting on the arm, and the appearance denoted a man of perhaps fifty years of age. The face was clean shaven and the hair were black streaked with gray.

The body was minus a coat and hat, neither of which articles of clothing could be found anywhere near. The remainder of the clothing were of fairly fine texture, and the general appearance of the body denoted a man of refinement, if not wealth. A pocketbook, containing five dollars, was found alongside the body. All evidence pointed to the fact that the man had been dead and lain there for a considerable time, as the body was partially decomposed, but there was nothing whatever in the pockets or on the clothing whereby the remains could be identified. One thing is certain, he was a stranger in that locality, but who he was or where from is yet a mystery. There were no marks of yiolence on the body and every appearance denoted death from some natural cause as the face wore a very calm and placid expression. An inquest was held Thursday afternoon but at this writing we have not learned the finding of the jury. The affair has created quite a sensation in that locality, and may prove to be one of those mysteries which can never be solved.

Meddling, Muddling, Maundering.

Secretary Herbert is the last member of the Cabinet to publish an official apology and and explanation to the public criticism which has sprung up through all the land since Admiral Meade, in a white heat of indignation over public wrong to his patriotism as a citizen and private insults to his dignity as an officer, asked to be retired.

One more department is added to those which the administration of this Administration has brought under public criticism, widespread and without distinction of party. Secretary Carlisle has had his explanations and apologies on bond sales, silver redemption, coining the seigniorage, sugar duties and the income tax. Secretary Gresham has bowed his apologies to an angry people over Hawaii, Samoa, Japan and Nicaragua, with Venezuela yet to hear from. Secretary Morton has explained at length and often in his department meat inspection and crop statistics, and out of it has found that he knew less as to what his chief meant by a "sound currency" than he thought he did. Attorney General Olney has had his turn over trusts and railroad cases. Now Secretary Herbert fills out the number with a laborious explanation, undoubtedly needed. It may be satisfactory, but none the less the very need of any explanation is proof of bad management.

For two years whatever this Administration meddles with it muddles, and after every muddling it maunders in apology. Was there ever more complete proof of incompetence than is offered by the acts of the Administration, save and only the proof furnished by its own apologies for its own mishaps?

Hastings vs. O'Conner.

Those persons who have been wondering what became of the libel suit instituted by General Hastings against F. J. O'Conner, of Johnstown, during last fall's campaign, are hereby enlightened:

At argument court at Ebensburg on Monday when the attorneys for the plaintiff moved the court to fix Thursday, June 20th next for the trial of the case of Daniel H. Hastings vs. Francis J. O'Conner, the defendant, moved to continue the case for the reason that a material witness on his behalf was at present in a hospital, and it was probable he would be obliged to undergo an operation. Mr. O'Conner declined to give the name of the witness, his ailment, or in what hospital he was confined. The court refused his motion for a continuance, and set the case for Thursday, June 20.

The Fruit is All Right.

Fruit growers say the recent frosts did but little if any injury to the fruit crop in this county. Early garden vegetation suffered some damage but as a general thing the loss by the "freeze" is not heavy. The following was sent out from Washington, D. C., yesterday. Reports of the signal service of the weather report conditions for the week ending to-day: Pennsylvania—All crops and fruits in fine condition. Erie grape belt and a few other sections report considerable damage by recent frosts, but the full extent is not yet determined.

Admiral Almy Dead.

Washington, May 16.—Admiral John J. Almy, retired, died at his residence in this city this morning after a long illness.

Admiral John Jay Almy was born in Rhode Island in 1816 and entered the navy as a midshipman when a mere lad of 14. In 1877 he was placed on the retired list on account of age, after having served in the navy for forty-seven years and eleven months.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Pique Jackets, Labe Trimmed Ruffles, Satin and Dresden Ribbons New Wash Materials, Graduating Dresses.

Cotton costumes bear a close resemblance in essential points to those of silk or wool, where the material is heavy and firm, plain skirts being universal, with round or Eton jackets and fancy fronts. A new sleeveless Eton jacket of pique shows very broad capes falling over the sleeves of the shirt waist a dress with a closely fitted back and a short, but rather full skirt. One, two or three skirt ruffles, four or five inches deep, seems an essential in thin fabrics, and the most stylish are edged by narrow ecru lace, about a third of an inch wide, with a single or double frill at the top, also edged by lace.

EACH SEASON

has its peculiar fancy in trimmings, and narrow ecru lace seems destined just now to enjoy special favor. Put on rather full between clusters of pure white mousseline-de-soie tucks, it constitutes the most stylish fancy front, or in two inch widths, it forms tiny ruffles on figured organdies, and so far is always in decided contrast. Although the "blouse front" is much in vogue, it is often dispensed with in corsages of sheer stuffs, and the full, round waist is either plain, with ribbon shoulder knots, or wide lace is draped in brotelle style, with or without ribbon straps or knottings from shoulder to waist. Lace brotelles are often an accessory to the "blouse front," particularly when it is of a contrasting material, and the tendency of all new waist garnitures is toward brotelle effects.

VERY WIDE LACE

or muslin embroidery draped over the upper part of the sleeve, and laid plain over the waist, is quite new, and ribbon bows are used at either shoulder and continued down to the waist, where both sides terminate in one large bow. Another pretty waist trimming is, eight inch wide lace put on extremely full under the collar, and allowed to take the natural full around the neck. Plain satin ribbon is a prominent trimming for checked striped or figured materials, but for plain organdies, which are a special feature this season, Dresden ribbons are most appropriate. Cotton dress skirts are about six yards wide, gored to some extent, in thin fabrics however, admitting of a decided fullness around the sides and front. Sleeves of sheer materials, are very large, usually loose to the elbow and finished with lace and a ribbon bow, but for heavy cottons the "leg o' mutton" is universal.

A VERY HANDSOME

thick stuff, called canvas, is shown as a rival of duck or Holland, woven in small squares, with a contrasting stitch at each corner, and as white and all stylish colors are fully represented, selection becomes a puzzling matter. The demand for dimities, cotton cheviots, lawns or organdies has been very great, and among other lovely dress goods, are colored lappets in very delicate hues, and by carefully laundering them with a pure soap like the Ivory, the colors will hold as long as the material lasts.

THE CONVENTS HAVE PROHIBITED

to such an extent any display in graduating dresses, that their example has been followed by other schools; therefore perfection is supposed to be attained in a plain Swiss muslin or organdy dress, high neck and long sleeves, with perhaps a few tucks around the skirt, and across the full front without any lace or ribbon. All tastes however must be suited, and white crepon, silk, organdy, plain or dotted Swiss muslin are in order, trimmed with satin ribbon or lace. Several underskirts of fine Swiss muslin or thin lawn are necessary, in order to impart the soft appearance which belongs to such costumes, and colors on graduating dresses, should always be avoided.

To Prevent Washing of Roads.

The washing of roads is due to two faults in the making of them. One is the failure to round the surface, so that the water may flow off to the sides. The other is the absence of culverts to carry off the water that thus flows from the roadbed. The too common water bars on country roads are an injury, rather than a benefit, for they soon cause the hollows thus made to become deeper and collect the water, thus becoming soft; every vehicle passing digs out the hollow and makes it worse. Culverts should be made under the road at proper distances to take the water from the side ditches and lead it to the other side, thus checking the flow materially and preventing washing out the ditches. As often as may be possible the ditches should discharge the water off the road. But even this method is only a makeshift; the right way is to take the water of the culverts in covered drains, thus wholly avoiding the common washing of the side ditches.

Drink Buttermilk.

Buttermilk is largely prescribed by physicians for chest and lung difficulties, and an exclusive buttermilk diet, the Medical Adviser says, has seemed to be a curative for Bright's disease. A continued use will satisfy and sometimes cure the craving for alcoholic liquors and strengthen the system. Buttermilk will often remove acidity of the stomach and will relieve the oppression about the heart, from which so many people suffer. It is, in fact, the stimulant for the system which old people need.

For Odd Fellows.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 15th. The week beginning Monday next, the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Pennsylvania will carry out the greatest demonstration ever attempted by any secret organization. Besides the regular annual sessions of the Grand Lodge, the Grand Encampment and the Daughters of Rebekah, which will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the greatest attractive event will be the parade on Tuesday of the Patriarchs Militant, Encampments and Subordinate Lodges, in full uniform, regulation dress and various insignia. This is the main celebration in connection with the dedication of the Odd Fellows Temple, which is now one of the most imposing buildings in Philadelphia. There are now in Pennsylvania alone 1080 lodges, with a membership of about 116,000 of which about 30,000 are in Philadelphia.

Reports covering outside jurisdictions indicate that, weather permitting, not less than 90,000 members of the Order will visit the Quaker City and about 50,000 will conform to the requirements for the parade. Grand Officers of distant states and of the Soverign Grand Lodge will be present. Lodges and Cantons from New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Trenton, Wilmington, Baltimore and Washington will send large delegations, with bands of music, as guests of local lodges.

All the available bands in and around Philadelphia have been engaged, as have all the large halls for the entertainment and reception of the visiting lodges. Elaborate accommodations, banquets etc., have been provided and no expense has been spared to make the event a sure success.

Samuel McKeever, of the New Templar Lodge, No. 1079, a faithful member of the Order for many years, has been appointed Grand Marshall who has made Harry S. Wright of Robert Morris Lodge No. 39, his chief of staff. Instructions have been sent to the Marshalls of Lodges, as to requirements of marching, their position in line, etc., and it is expected that the arrangements made for the proper handling of such a vast line of men will be wholly successful.

Cheap Wall Paper.

Mr. J. W. Houser, of the firm of J. W. Houser & Son, has just returned from Philadelphia and New York where he has been to purchase a large stock of wall paper. He has all the latest styles—some very fine goods and cheaper quality. He has some white back paper that he can sell at 4 cents a bolt. This is the first time that white back paper has been offered at so low a price. Now is the time to buy for these goods will certainly advance in price. J. W. Houser & Son, however, will sell these goods off at surprisingly low prices. They have purchased them at the lowest figure the market has reached for years and they wall give their customers the benefit of the bargain they have made. Call and see them at No 20, Bishop street Bellefonte.

Emergency Hospital

Doctors and nurses realize the necessity of counteracting the effects of the "shock" which accompanies all accident and surgical cases, and which more often proves fatal than the original cause.

Animation is temporarily suspended. Something must be done to start "the wheels" going again, as it were. The stomach is in no condition to digest a sufficient amount of food to nourish the other organs of the body, so they resort to the original raw food, because the least amount of it contains the most life, strength and blood-producing qualities of anything known to medical science. It will, unaided, sustain strength for weeks, and can be retained by the Weakest Stomach.

Bovinine is not a medicine, but a builder of flesh and bone, and a maker of blood. For all cases of sickness, chronic invalids, infants or the aged, it is indispensable. 25,000 physicians endorse it. Sold by all druggists. The Bovinine Co., New York.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

A Smash Up.

On Saturday while Mr. G. W. Jackson's coachman was driving his spirited team of bays in a buggy, near Unionville, he had quite an accident. The neck yoke broke and the animals took fright and got away. The result was a badly smashed vehicle and the horses were somewhat bruised.

IN THE HOUSE.

There Were Many Vacant Seats in the Body Yesterday.

Harrisburg, May 17.—There were many vacant seats in the house today.

A resolution was adopted making Oliver Merriman, of Beaver county, assistant messenger to the house, in place of Sanford Almy, of the same county, deceased.

An attempt was made to secure a special order for the Fritz bill, providing for the distribution of the school fund according to the number of school children; but the Philadelphia members objected and the resolution was withdrawn.

Mr. Smith, the author of a bill providing another method of distribution of the school apportionment, stated that he would call up his bill for the final disposition next Tuesday.

When the house bill providing for taxation on the shares of stock of any bank incorporation under the laws of the state or United States was reached, Mr. Cochran called for the yeas and nays, which call has been carefully avoided during the morning, owing to the thin house. He stated that he did so because the call of yeas and nays would certainly be demanded on the next bill, taxing beer 24 cents a barrel. The roll call showed more than a quorum present. The bill passing second reading by a vote of 115 yeas to 2 nays.

The Cochran bill, providing a tax on beer of twenty-four cents a barrel, was next in order and was amended in several particulars. One amendment provides that beer manufactered for export shall be exempt. An amendment was offered by Mr. Fow providing that licensed bottles shall have their tax certificates furnished by city and county treasurers. This was withdrawn with the understanding that it will be inserted on third reading. Other amendments were immaterial, and after some debate the bill passed second reading—yeas 88, nays 15.

Senate bills on second reading were next in order, and Mr. Peltz called up the postponed bill to punish pool selling, receiving and transmitting bets, or aiding in pool selling or betting. The roll call showed the absence of a quorum. Speaker Walton ordered a call of the house and the doors locked. The call showed eight less than a quorum. The speaker then directed the sergeant at arms to search for absent members, all doors being carefully guarded to prevent any person entering except under guard of the officers of the house. Five members were brought in after a long wait, each being excused after explaining his absence.

Distressing Accident in Chicago.

Chicago, May 17.—While fifteen men were engaged this afternoon tearing down the walls of the Globe Molding Works, which was burned six weeks ago, one of the walls fell in a heap without warning to the workmen, with fatal results. Dead: William Mangle, 38 years old. Fatally injured: James Carbine, 27 years old; A. Tarkobsko, bruised.

The other workers managed to rush from under the falling mass of brick and mortar just in time to escape injury, and at once began to dig out the unfortunate ones, dead or imprisoned under the debris. Firemen and police officers came in a hurry to assist in the work of rescue.

While they were at work there came another crash, accompanied by the warning cries of the assembled men, women and children, as a large pillar at a corner of the building gave way. At the same instant part of another wall came crashing and a panic prevailed among the people. The mortor and brick fell all around the workers, all managed to grope their way to the street in safety.

Morris Fegal, the contractor, who had the job for tearing down the burned building, was arrested on a charge of criminal carelessness.

State League Squabble.

Reading, May 17.—President Hanlon, of the State League, was in Reading today and had a conference with Manager Whitman, of the Reading club. Honlon threatens to put another club in Reading unless Whitman consents to pay visiting clubs 40 per cent, of the gate receipts. This Whitman will not do and says he will make application to join the Eastern League if Hanlon continues withholding his (Whitman's) guarantee while playing abroad. A special meeting of the State League will be held at Carbondale next Sunday afternoon.

Meade Not Discussed.

Washington, May 17.—It is stated at the navy department that the Meade case stands where it did, without any change since the action of Saturday, when the secretary made a statement of the case and the permission to Admiral Meade to go abroad was revoked. The case was not mentioned at the cabinet meeting to-day. In administration circles it is generally understood that no action is to be taken at present.

Income Tax Collections.

Washington, May 17.—During the month of April the internal revenue bureau, from figures complied by Commissioner Miller, collected $44,506 on account of the income tax and for the past three months $73,164, as follows: From persons $56,521; from corporations $61,642. The total collections from internal revenue sources for the past ten months of the current fiscal year foot up $120,652,071 an increase over 1894 of $1,511,724.

WORK OF THE PRESBYTERIANS

Governor Beaver Will be Appointed as Vice Moderator.

Pittsburg, May 17.—At the morning session of the Presbyterian general assembly most of the committees were announced, the liberal representation being so small that their influence will not be felt. Governor Beaver will be appointed vice moderator.

The sabbath observance committee reported a series of resolutions, which were adopted, deprecating the growing tendency to make the sabbath a season of worldly entertainment, commending all Sunday legislation designed to protect the Christian Sabbath and warning ministers and members of the insidious influence of the newspapers and urging them by word and action to do all they can to decrease their unwholesome power.

This afternoon the venerable Joseph T. Smith, chairman of the standing committee on church unity and federation, asked to be retired from further connection with the committee. Mr. Smith's request is made on account of the unfriendly action of the late general assembly in ordering the committee to temporarily suspend its correspondence with the Protestant Episcopal church with a view to the union of the two churches. His report simply asks for a continuance of this committee on the same line of work. No action was taken.

The report of the committee on seminary control, reaffirming the action of the assembly of 1894 and declaring that, in its judgement, the effort should be continued to secure the adoption in substance of the assembly's plan by all the seminaries was read and discussed until the hour of adjournment.

Father and Daughter.

Lancaster, Pa., May 17.—Special Pension Examiner John H. Jenks, acting under orders from Washington, swore out a warrant for Pension Agent Edward Bookmyer and his daughter Ella of this city, last night, charging them with falsely making, altering, forging and counterfeiting applications for pensions. Bookmyer was arrested and gave bail for a hearing before United States Commissioner Montgomery to-day.

Other suits are promised, and, it is said by Col. Jenks, Bookmyer has been taking money to which he was not entitled and from persons who could not afford to lose it.

Detective John S. Place went to York this morning and arrested Miss Bookmyer, at a friend's, whom she was visiting and brought her here. She is only 17 years of age and is pretty. She held the office of notary public and is said to be the first lady appointed to that office in the state of Pennsylvania.

At the hearing both were held under $1,500 bail for trial in the United States circuit court.

Spain's Answer.

Madrid, May 17.—She Spanish government has completed its final answer to Secretary Gresham's despatch concerning the Allianca incident, and it will be cabled by Minister Taylor to Washington. The text of the reply will not be given here, but it is known to be entirely responsive to Mr. Gresham's requests and to be in a most cordial and friendly spirit. It follows the brief assurances of Spain, given three weeks ago, that a full and satisfactory answer would be made as soon as the report and testimony on the case had been received. It is understood to disavow the action of the officer who fired on the Allianca, and to disavow the jurisdictional right of Spain over American vessels at the point where the Allianca was fired on.

Edwin Walsh Acquitted.

Pottsville, May 17.—The jury in the case of Edwin A. Walsh, of Mahanoy Plane, charged with murdering his wife on the night of February 23, came in at 11 o'clock this morning, after being out all night, with a verdict of not guilty. The prisoner was immediately released. The defense brought out the fact that Mrs. Walsh was addicted to drink and she made home miserable for her family. It was shown that she was under the influence of liquor the night of her death and that she died from injuries received by falling down stairs.

Cannons at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., May 17.—The military and citizens' parade here to-day in honor of the arrival from Washington of the historic cannons donated by the United States government to the citizens' Grand Army committee, was over a mile in length. The houses along the line of march were decorated. Business was generally suspended. One of these cannons was in service on the federal side, and the other on the confederate side during the war. The cannons will be made into souvenirs.

Didn't Want Church Money.

Flemington, W. V., May 17.—Burglars entered the general store of Brohard & Monroe at 3 o'clock this morning, dynamiting the safe, wrecking the building, and taking everything valuable, including a large sum of money paid the firm yesterday on a real estate deal. At daylight the bank book containing $800 belonging to the treasurer of the Baptist church was found on a bridge west of the store, carefully tied up and marked in a scrawling hand, "we don't want church money."

The general revival of wash materials for gowns will be an interesting phase of the summer world of fashion.

WON BY MISS UNDERWOOD.

The Junior Oratorical Contest on Friday Evening.

The declamatory contest of the High School, for the Reynold's prize, took place in Garman's opera house Friday evening. The house was well filled with an intelligent and appreciative audience. The stage was nicely trimmed and decorated, the music good and the exercises both interesting and entertaining, but the order in the gallery was simply outrageous and unpardonable, at least part of the time.

There were eight contestants, namely, James G. Wright, Blanche Underwood, Willis A. Ishler, J. Willis Knox, Myrtle Longacre, Frieda Baum, Mable Fauble and Bessie Orris, all of whom acquitted themselves with credit. Indeed, for young people, they are all to be highly commended for the manner in which they delivered their pieces.

The Judges were E. R. Chambers, Esq., Mr. W. I. Fleming and Rev. B. C. Shaw, and the prize was awarded to Miss Blanche Underwood. Perhaps if we had been the Judges the prize would have been given to another, but we must confess that where a number of persons are competing for the same prize, and all do so well, and three of whom display so much grace and beauty in declaiming as did Blanche Underwood, Mable Fauble and J. Willis Knox, it is difficult to award the prize so as to fully satisfy everybody.

It does those young people an immense amount of good to engage in these contests and be thus brought before the public. It gives them grace, ease, confidence; and the drill necessary is of vast help to them in after years.

The prize offered is sufficiently large to cause each one engaged in the contest to put forth their best efforts. We now again, as we have done heretofore express our gratification to Col. Reynolds because he so generously offered this prize and continues the same from year to year.

It is not out of place to here say that more attention should be paid by the student to the making of gestures, and the manner in which they are made.

All in all, considering the youth of the contestants, we confess that we were more than ever impressed with the good work of our public schools, as it is shown to us from time to time through the public exercises in which they engage.

Inasmuch as we have already published the full program of Friday evening's exercises, we will not again do so, but will mention the subject of the prize winner's recitation as "A Second Trial." In this, itself, is an object lesson, never be discouraged with the first attempt.

Clark—Burnett.

The marriage of Miss Blanche Burnett to Mr. Thomas P. Clark was solemnized at Harper's Ferry, West Virginia, in the Roman Catholic church, Wednesday morning the 8th. The groom is the oldest son of James Clark, of this place. He is a contractor of the Standard Lime & Stone Co., of Kearneysville, W. Va. The bride is a young lady of many accomplishments and a fit partner for any man.

After an excellent wedding breakfast the happy couple departed for an extended tour of the eastern cities, and finally arrived in Bellefonte where they were given a royal reception. They departed Wednesday for Kearneysville, W. Va., where they will at once go to housekeeping.

Firemen's Reception.

On Wednesday evening, June 5th, a grand reception will be held in the new armory, in honor of the visiting firemen, who will be here in attendance at the District Firemen's Convention. It will be given by the members of the Undine Fire Company whose band and orchestra will furnish the music. Dancing begins at 9 p. m. All visiting firemen, in full uniform, will be admitted free. General admission will be 50 cents. Thursday evening a public dance will be held in the same place.

A Heavy Frost.

Friday morning the ground was covered white with an unusually heavy frost—one of the heaviest ever known at this time of year. The temperature was low enough to freeze ice and if the fruit and early crops are not now entirely destroyed it is because they can stand an almost endless amount of cold. The frost was general throughout the county.

Died in Milesburg.

On Wednesday morning Mrs. W. O. Green died at her home in Milesburg, after a brief illness with quick consumption. She was yet a young lady and leaves to mourn their loss a husband and two small children. The funeral took place in Milesburg Friday.

THE General Revenue Bill has passed the House by such a large vote in its favor the yeas being 147 and the nays 14, that it seems likely to pass the Senate also. Virtually the same influences guide and govern both Senate and House, and they seldom disagree except when the vote in one house or the other is very close. When it was first presented the Revenue bill had no chance of passage. Powerful influences were raised up against it, but amendments were made that disarmed the opposition, and, as the vote in the House shows, it was virtually unopposed on a final passage As previously pointed out the bill is in the main a great improvement on existing laws, and, if passed, may a least serve as a sound basis for a revenue system worthy of the name.

CIRCUS DAY.

The Walter L. Main Grandest and Best Shows Almost Here.

The all-absorbing topic of the day seems to be "are you going to the circus?" The answer on every hand seems to be "why, certainly," and when one stops to reflect over the fact that the Walter Main shows are the largest that ever toured the United States it is not surprising that every one is going to avail himself of the opportunity to see this massive amusement enterprise. No amusement, whether tented or otherwise, has ever caused the preliminary enthusiasm throughout this county that the Walter Main Shows have by the announcement that they will appear in Bellefonte May 28.

In view of the fact that this wonderful zoologic, ethnologic, equine and hippodromic exhibition is the superior of all similar enterprises—employing as it does more cars to transport it, more people to conduct its various departments, more horses, wagons, larger tents and the greatest number of performers ever amassed under one management, it is not surprising that it is to-day the world's representative shows.

We suggest to out-of-town people the advisability of coming to town early so as not to miss the grand street parade that takes place daily at 10 a. m., rain or shine It contains five bands of music, ten kinds of music in all, including the grand golden steam calliope, a band of real Scottish bag-pipers, and several musical novelties absolutely new to the American people. There is a whole caravan of massive carved cages, gilded chariots, mounted knights and ladies, a score of comical clowns, herds of elephants, camels, midget ponies and the finest collection of highly bred horses ever brought to this country. After all, the parade is only preliminary to the most remarkable exhibition of arenic, hippodromic and zoological marvels ever collected by man.

The Apportionment Question.

The attitude of the House in insisting that the session shall continue until the apportionment bills are passed is strictly correct. In that respect the ground taken is a great improvement over former Legislatures which have persistently ignored the constitutional mandate for apportionment after census. That the increased respect for the constitution has no relation to the presence of a republican Governor would be a hazardous assertion.

However, the House apportionment bills seem to be about as fair as a political legislature is likely to produce. How difficult it is to keep partisan considerations out of apportionment bills is shown by Mr. Fow's objection that Philadelphia has no Democratic Congressman. The question what the political complexion of the districts will be should not enter into apportionment. If the grouping of the Philadelphia wards into compact and contiguous districts, as nearly in population as possible, gives Philadelphia two Democratic Congressmen, she should have two; if the same process gives her no Democratic Congressmen, she should have none.

The same rule ought to apply to Allegheny county; but it will not, until the political millenium arrives. There is some peculiar grouping of the Pittsburg wards, in carving out the three districts to which the county is entitled. This seems to relate to personal ambitions rather than party success. That is also a consideration that ought not to enter into apportionment but is bound to do so, until the nature of politics is changed.

Dependent Pensioners.

The action of the pension bureau in constructing the legal meaning of dependence under the act of June 27, 1890, has been reversed by Assistant Secretary of the Interior Reynolds in a decision on a dependent mother's case. The ruling provides that where the property possessed by a mother having no other means of support is so small that it will not yield an income sufficient to support her during her life, it should not deprive her of the right to a pension. By "adequate means of support" the law is interpreted to mean not merely enough to supply the necessaries of life for any limited period of years, but a comfortable maintenance of the pensioner during the remainder of her life.

EDWARD T. TUTEN.

Local Department.

—Governor Hastings has signed the Farr compulsory Education bill.

—It is reported that Mrs. Graham is very ill at her home on Allegheny street.

—A pretty iron fence has been placed about the lawn at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Linn.

—And now it looks as if we will have a paved diamond at last. It certainly does not come before it is needed.

—As the picnic season is now at hand he little boys are attending Sunday school with a regularity that surprises even themselves.

—Should anyone desire to know why the ladies are going to pave the diamond, they can find out by asking "Beezer" Curtin.

—From the appearance of Allegheny street near Parrish's drug store one would think that Col. Pruner had started a lumber yard there.

—Main's circus, Decoration day, the firemen's convention and Bellefonte centennial and the Fourth of July,all big days for Bellefonte.

—Col. J. L. Spangler has been appointed by Governor Hastings a commissioner to the Cotton States and International Exposition at Atlanta, Ga.

—The town of Mahaffey, Clearfield county, is enjoying a most substantial boom at present, in railroading, coal mining and lumber operations.

—Swarthmore's Athletic team came to Bellefonte Friday evening in a parlor car over the Reading and Central Railroad of Pennsylvania system. They are a fine-looking set of fellows.

—If the firemen's convention in Bellefonte June 6th, is not a success, it will not be the fault of Mr. A. S. Garman, who is devoting the most of his time to working it up. Al. is a pushing fellow at all times.

—Local sportsmen have almost given up trout fishing in and around Bellefonte. This certainly cannot be because the fish have all been caught already. Reports from the mountain streams give large catches.

—Mr. W. O. Green, of Milesburg, hereby desires to express his gratitude to all relatives and friends who rendeaed such great kindness and assistance to him at the time of his recent bereavement, in the death of his wife.

—Vreeland's minstrels gave a fine entertainment to a small audience in Garman's opera house Thursday evening. The Vreelands are a good troupe and should have been better patronized, but the lateness of the season may account, in part, or the small house.

—The class in Mining Engineering of State College were in Bellefonte on Monday enroute to the Taylor and Gatesburg ore mines of the Valentine Iron company. They were on an inspecting tour for the purpose of gathering all the practical knowledge they possibly could to season the theories of the class room.

—Friday's Clearfield Public Spirit says: Bellefonte will have the biggest day the town ever saw on the 6th of June. It is centennial day for the town and the occasion is to be celebrated by a meeting of the District Firemen's Association. The Clearfield Fire Department will be there as will also a large delegation of our people.

—Thomas O. Glenn, of State College, is one of the thirty-eight young men on whom the Cincinnati Medical Institute will confer a degree at its commencement exercises on June the fourth. Tom graduated at the State College in '92 and since that time has been preparing himself for a first class doctor, which we have every reason to believe he will make.

—A little girl wrote the following composition on "Saw Mills." "Saw mills are very useful. If it was not for saw mills we wouldn't have no saw dust to stuff our dolls. If I was a doll I would rather die than to be stuffed with straw. Straw is very ticklesome when you ain't got anything else on your inside. I know a good deal more about saw mills, but my paper is all gone."

—Mrs. W. C. Heinle, who, by the way is a member of the Village Improvement Society, has set a fine example for residents on Bishop street to follow by having the side of the street in front of her residence, a piece 60 foot in length, nicely sodded and covered with crushed limestone. It looks very beautiful, but it should be followed up by every property owner on that thoroughfare doing the same.

—Local stamp collectors will be interested in knowing that recently Judge R. F. Tebbs, of Leesburg, Va., in looking over some old letters, found two postage stamps, known as the Buchanan stamps of 1847, of which kind a very limited number were issued. They are now regarded as very valuable by the curiosity stamp hunters. He sold the two recently to a party in Washington, who deals in that kind of curiosities, for $375.

—Miss Lena Baum, who has been ill with scarlet fever, is steadily improving.

—The Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin will put in tpye-setting machines in the near future. This is an evidence of the success of that paper.

—The iron superstructure for the new Lamb street bridge arrived on Tuesday and is already unloaded and ready to put in shape as quick as the abutments are up.

—An exchange says, notwithstanding the severe frosts, we may expect a large fruit crop, because the trees blossomed in the dark of the moon. We hope this is correct, but it don't look that way.

—Couldn't some enterprising individual in Centre county discover a gold mine in some of the surrounding hills, just to even up things with Lewistown, Mifflin county, where the gold fever now is away above par.

—Keep booming the centennial and district firemen's convention. The time is now getting short and it will take lots of work to get everything in good shape. Therefore, let every committee do their duty and a grand success will be the result.

—With its usual push and enterprise the Pittsburg Times is publishing about four times as full proceedings of the Presbyterian General Assembly in session in that city, as any of its contemporaries. But this is only in the regular order of that paper's routine work—always in the lead.

—Hon. John G. Love is now comfortably located in his new office on the second floor of Crider's Exchange. W. E. Gray, Esq., will occupy his room on High street alone. He intends to have his room refurnished and equipped with a new library. Mr. Gray is one of Bellefonte's foremost young attorneys who enjoys a large clientage.

—Dentist W. S. Harter, who will be better remembered as "Fatty" who served as deputy-recorder under Dr. John F. Harter a number of years ago, was at the spring election chosen Justice of the Peace in College township and is probably the youngest Justice in the State. He received his commission on Monday and is now ready for business.

—The committee having in charge the arranging for the Y. M. C. A. picnic at Hecla Park June 20th, report everything indicative of a most glorious time. Hon. John Wanamaker has expressed a willingness to be present and a number of other very prominent gentlemen will also be on the ground and entertain the public.

—Why don't the Street Committee put a covering on the stone in the diamond? Only a little more than two weeks intervene until centennial time and it will take some time to pack and get that portion of the streets in proper shape. It would be a disgrace to have the most prominent point in the town in a bad condition at that time.

—The cornerstone of the new United Evangelical church at Woodward will be laid on Sunday, June 2. Rev. Stapleton, P. E., will be present. The foundation walls for the new church are completed and part of the superstructure will be up by that time, so that the services can held under the roof of the building. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

—The State College commencement exercises will this year be held from June 9 to 13. Rev. David R. Breed, of Pittsburg, will preach the Baccalaureate sermon; Hon. John B. Robinson, of Media, will make the address before the Alumni and Hon. Robert G. Ogden, of Philadelphia, will deliver the commencement address. The graduating class this year numbers thirty-five.

—A "Colonial Experiment in Communism" in the SOCIAL ECONOMIST for May, gives a lively and trenchant picture of the signal failure of King James to carry out a socialistic experiment in colonizing Jamestown, Va. Brook Farm, Fourier's Phalansteries, Icaria, Topolobampo and Freeland were mere successors to the socialist experiment at Jamestown, Va., begun in 1607.

—Mr. A. C. Thompson, recently closed his winter term of school at Philisburg, and will devote the coming summer looking after the interests of the American School Book company in Centre county. He was connected with this house for several seasons past and has been quite successful in his line. During the present summer his headquarters will be at the Garman House, Bellefonte.

—Sheriff Condo took Prothonotary Smith to Philadelphia this week, partly on a business trip and to show him the sights. They intend to see all that is to be seen, and if their money don't play out they may strike a bargain to buy City Hall or Cramps ship yards, and bring them to Bellefonte for the coming centennial. Probably by the time they get back it will be in order to petition the court to appoint guardians over both.

—Sunday evening Rev. Dr. Colfelt, the minister who believes and teaches religion before creed,and because of which he was forced to resign from one of the leading churches in Philadelphia, and who is now staying at Bedford Springs for his health, came down from State College and preached in the Presbyterian church in this place; and the sermon he delivered was a hard stroke on creeds and a master effort in teaching the simplicity of the word o God.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Orders Suggesting the Proper Observance of the Same.

General orders No 4 have been sent out from the headquarters department of Pennsylvania G. A. R., No. 1025 Arch street, Philadelphia, under date of May 8. They are are as follows:

1. Twenty-seven years ago, in general orders No 11, of date May 5, 1868, the then commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, General John A. Logan, instituted Memoral Day.

On each 30th day of May, since then, the patriotic people have joined with the Grand Aamy of the Republic and other survivors of the Union army in a tribute of love and remembrance to the memory of those who paid the last full measure of devotion to our country and our flag with their lives, and of those gallant comrades who since Appomattox have gone to the great beyond.

Established as a day of fitting recognition of the devotion and sacrifices of our comrades and beautiful and touching tributes to their memory, it has come to be a day of memorial for all our soldiers and sailors dead, who, while living, endured hardships and perils in defense of our nation.

It was indeed a sacred inspiration that suggested to General Logan this tribute of remembrance and patriotism whose effects have been far reaching and most salutary—bringing to humanity, civilization and christianity a greater conception of reverence for heroes dead, and of gratitude for what they did while living.

Year after year as we visit the "silent cities of the dead" evidences multiply of the profound veneration that the people have for those who have gone before, and throughout the land the cemeteries and other burial places show how great a hold the customs of strewing sweet flowers on the graves of our heores has attained.

There is no teaching so powerful as example, and no incentive to patriotic deeds and noble living so great, as that which springs from holding in remembrance and undying honor those who have nobly lived and gloriously died. So long as the country honors the memory of its heroes it will not lack defenders.

To us, who were the companions in youth and the comrades in war of the men whose graves we decorate, the services of this day have a peculiar and touching interest. They recall to us memories of pleasant associations in peace, of experiences in war, of marches by day and by night, of trial and hardships and perils on battlefields and in prison pens, storm of battle on land and on sea, of grevious wounds and of the precious lives that were destroyed when so full of hope and promise.

Let this sacred day be kept as becomes its character, its duties, its solemn memories. Thirty years have passed away since we laid down our arms and docked our ships of war. The majority of those who marched with us, fought with us, and triumphed with us, have already crossed over and answered the roll call on the other side—in the silent realm from whence comes no echoes to our ears. A dwindling band of ageing men, will not long remain to lead in the observance of Memorial Day, but while we yet live let us so educate our youth, who will soon succeed us in this work of remembrance and patriotism, that its observance and beneficial influence may remain when our forms shall long have mouldered into dust. Select suitable comrades to visit the schools before Memorial Day to teach the children the purpose and value of its observance, secure their attendance and participation; encourage the co-operation of our woman's auxiliary organizations, the Sons of Veterans and all kindred and patriotic societies and all patriotic and generous minded people; discourage inappropriate occupations and diversons; consecrate this one day to the memory of the patriot dead and the honoring of the old flag under which they fought and under whose folds so many of them died.

2. As a part of memorial services, the department commander recommends that each post shall arrange for the preaching of a sermon adopted to the occasion, specially considering where feasible the themes. "For what did the Union Soldiers fight?" "What has the country, civilization and humanity gained by the result." It is particularly urged that every post attend divine service on the Sunday preceding Memorial day.

4. Where there are two or more posts located, a proper division of the duties of the day should be mutually arranged.

4. Every post is expected to make arrangements for the proper observance of memorial day. The form of ceremony adopted by this department has been published, the copies can be had free by posts on application to these headquarters.

By command of department commander H. H. CUMMINGS.

J. F. MORRISON,
Assistant Adjutant-General.

The Diamond to be Paved.—Other Business Transacted.

In the absence of John C. Miller on Monday evening, on motion of Mr. Williams, Mr. William Hillibish was elected president pro tem. of council and he called the same to order at 7.30 p. m., with additional members Gerberich, Williams, Brockerhoff, Brachbill and Bush present. Clerk Isaac Mitchell read the minutes of the previous regular and special sessions, which were approved as read.

Eight laborers of R. McCafferty & Son were present to see if council could make some arrangement to secure them their pay.

An invitation was then read from the Centennial Association asking Council to participate in the Bellefonte Centennial June 7th.

The Street Committee reported considerable work done in cleaning up and repairs to streets, etc.

The Water Committee reported everything in good shape. An additional motor has been put in in Bellefonte, in the candy factory of John D. Sourbeck. The frost froze the flowers around the big spring, but the most of them will come up all right again. W. B. Maitland and Jenkins & Lingle ask for water at the car works.

The Fire and Police committee had no report to make.

The Market committee reported everything moving along in good shape and $3.20 market fees collected.

The Nuisance committee reported that, on investigation the nuisance reported at the poor house, did not prove to be a nuisance after all. On examination of the locality surrounding the big spring the committee reported that they could find no positive evidence of any contamination of the water in the spring by reason of water closets, cesspools, etc.

The Finance committee had no reports to make.

The Street Committee presented a petition, signed by numerous citizens and business men, protesting against the granting of privileges to any one to erect and maintain booths on the streets or alleys of Bellefonte for the purpose of selling any kind of produce, fruit, etc. The Street Committee endorsed the petition above named and gave it as their judgment that no booth privileges be granted.

R. McCafferty appeared and asked for an extension of time for the completion of the abutments of the Lamb street bridge; also presented an estimate of the borough engineer of work done and asked payment for same. The estimate was for 40 additional yards of masonary completed.

In regard to the invitation to council to attend the Bellefonte Centennial in a body, it was moved that the same be accepted.

The request of Jenkins & Lingle and W. B. Maitland that water be conveyed to the car works was, on motion of Mr. Bush the matter was referred to the Water committee for their action.

On motion of Mr. Bush the Booth question was referred back to the Street Committee for any action they see fit.

On the estimate furnished by county engineer, on motion of Mr. Bush, council granted R McCafferty & Son an ordar on account of abutments for Lamb street bridge in the sum of $126.14.

An ordinance was presented by the Borough Solicitor providing for the paving of the diamond with composite pavement, in accordance with an act of assembly passed in 1889; two-thirds of the cost of the same to be paid by the property owners surrounding the same. After considerable discussion of the question pro and con, on motion of Mr. Brockerhoff the ordinance was ordained and enacted, and the diamond will now likely be paved, the matter being left entirely with the Street Committee.

Flowers for Decoration Day.

All persons, and especially children, are earnestly invited to again this year, as in years past, bring all the flowers they can to Gregg Post rooms on the morning of May 30th to be used in decorating the soldier's graves. A clerk will be present who will receive the flowers and take the name of the donor, and the list will then be published.

The ladies are also requested to be at the Post Room not later than 9 o'clock on the morning of the 30th to assist in arranging the flowers.

By order of the Committee.

Let Them Brace Up.

The rather poor showing made by the athletic team of State College was due to the careless and indifferent manner in which the men trained. No better trainer can be found in the state than G. W. Hoskins, but unless the men turn out and exert themselves, the trainer's services are of no avail. It is true the men do not have the proper suppot they should have, but, if they would evince a desire to raise their standing the college support would soon follow. It is to be hoped that such will soon be the case.

They Took His Trousers.

On Sunday night, or rather Monday morning, between 12 and 4 o'clock a robber or robbers entered the residence of Mr. Archie Allison, on Allegheny street, through an unfastened kitchen window and proceeding to his bed chamber, quietly possessed themselves of his trousers. They took the garment with them and everything that was in the pockets save his bunch of keys, which they considerately left him. In the pockets was a pocketbook containing between twelve and thirteen dollars. Nothing else of value was taken. The thieves overlooked a coat hanging nearby in the pockets of which were about fifty dollars.

Archie must be a very sound sleeper as he knew nothing of this midnight transaction until he came to dress the next morning when he found his nether garment missing. Now, although he has no idea who did the deed, yet he is keeping a sharp lookout for those trousers and it won't be healthy for the present owner to wear them within fifty miles of Bellefonte.

Confirmed by Bishop Rulison.

At half-past seven Tuesday evening a pretty ceremony was performed at the Episcopal church on Allegheny street. Nine new members were confirmed by Assistant Bishop N. S. Rulison, of Central Pennsylvania. A large crowd was present to witness the impressive services. Those who were confirmed were: Mrs. John Bullock, Miss Jane Breeze, Mr. and Mrs. James McElhatten, Frederick and Blanche Chandler, William Michael, Blanche McGarvey and Mr. James Simmons.

Improvements at Hecla Park.

The improvements at Hecla Park are being pushed forward vigorously. A neat board fence now divides the grounds from the road and the bare spots are being covcovered with sod. The embankment around the large boating pond is also being sodded. The park is very cool and inviting; the grounds are clear of rubbish and the buildings are clean.

Special Meeting of Gregg Post.

There will be a special meeting of Gregg Post, No. 95, G. A. R., held in the Post rooms, Saturday evening, May 25, at 8 o'clock, to make arrangements for attending the Bellefonte Centennial. Let there be a full attendance. By order of

WILLIAM T. FITZGERALD,
Commander.

F. P. GREENE,
Adjutant

Reformed Church Sociable.

The ladies of the Reformed church will hold a Strawberry and Ice Cream sociable in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, on Allegheny street, Friday evening, May 24th. As this will be the first strawberry sociable of the season it should be well attended, and doubtless will be, as everybody is most cordially invited to be there.

Took First Honors.

The work of the graduating class of the Bellefonte High school is over and the result of the examinations shows that Miss Mary H. Underwood has taken first honors and Miss Della V. Goodfellow second honors. As the class numbers fourteen scholars these young ladies can fell proud of their success.

Cut His Foot.

Monday evening Irvin Robb was peeling bark for Humes & Brooks on Youngwoman's creek. Suddenly, by accident, his axe slipped and cut an ugly gash in his right foot. The toe next to the smallest one was almost severed. He was taken to his home at Nittany Hall.

A Place to Commence.

The village Improvement Society could make a good start by cleaning up Spring Creek, say from Ray's confectionery store down to the new bridge. It could be done with the cost of only a few dollars and would certainly add to the general appearance of the town.

The following letters remain in the Bellefonte P. O. uncalled for May 21, 1895.
